Format and Numbering Systems

The format used in this volume is a pedigree one, i.e. the data is worked back from me, the author, rather than forward from some one progenitor.

The numbering system for individuals listed in the Lineal Ancestor Index follows the pedigree format; I, the author, am assigned number 1, my father is number 2, my mother is number 3. Male ancestors all have even numbers determined by doubling the number assigned to their son or daughter, i.e. my paternal grandfather is number 4, his father is number 8, his father number 16, etc., My maternal grandfather is number 6, his father is number 12, his father is number 24, etc. Female ancestors all have odd numbers determined by adding "1" to their husbands number, i.e. my paternal grandmothers number is 5, her mother is number 9, her mother is number 17.

There are a few instances where an ancestor may have more than one number. The most common is when cousins marry. There are also instances of marriage between an ancestor and a sibling's widow or widower, and when more than one in a family marries into one of the lineal families. Such instances can also combine to cause an ancestor to have three numbers. Each of the above mentioned instances occurs, and probably more frequently in colonial times than presently. The reader should keep in mind that although it is frustrating, it works out to be mathematically correct. It also allows an outsider with only one line in common, to easily follow his line of ancestors.

The numbers appearing with names in the Family Related Index simply indicate the data sheet on which his (her) name appears. These individuals are not in the line of descent but are related to those who are in that line, by reason of being siblings or through marriage. This information is included as a matter of interest and for the researcher with related lines.

There are about one hundred immigrant ancestors, most of them marked when proof that they were the immigrant was certain. Their children are all listed and the featured child's number is one half that of that ancestor.

He was granted a Fellowship in the American College of Physicians in Feb 1990.

2. Leslie Alice Cable, Born 25 Nov 1952, Glendale, Los Angeles County, CA, Graduated John Marshall High School 1970, Oklahoma City, OK. Married 12 Aug 1972 David Allen Egolf, (son born to Howard Egolf and Lois Kennedy, 7 Sept 1951 Indianapolis, Marion County, IN, Electrical Engineer, Graduated University of Oklahoma, Norman, OK, 1974 with distinction, and Arizona State University, MA in Mathematics, 1976). Leslie graduated University of Oklahoma, Norman, OK, 12 May 1974, with distinction. Holder of State of Oklahoma Elementary Teaching Credential and State of Arizona Teaching Credential. Their children: Jared Allen, Born 25 Feb 1978, Phoenix, Maricopa County, AZ and Jennifer Lee Born 13 Dec 1980, Phoenix, Maricopa County, AZ.

Growing up on a citrus ranch in North Whittier Heights, California had its unique advantages. The family property consisted of fifteen acres, set among many similar ranches, bordered by rolling hills, Doves, quail, rabbits were plentiful, and at night the coyotes howled each time the steam engine trains called mournfully in the night. There were always several cats to keep the gophers under control, and these were constant companions. There were cool muddy irrigation ditches to wade in in the warm weather, and high mustard cover-crop in which to make playhouses during the winter. A barn roof made slippery with moss, made a great slide. Brother Philip provided endless ideas for exploration, imaginative play, and mischief.

Summers were spent at Camp Baldy in the San Bernardino Mountains. It was a resort area with many rounded granite boulders, oak and alder trees and a stream that tumbled and roared over the rocks. There was a public plunge, an outdoor dance floor under a spreading oak, horses for the adults to ride and burros for the children. Quiet during the week, it exploded on weekends during depression times when people tried to forget their troubles for a short time. When prohibition was repealed, their shouts could be heard until three in the morning. Then on Sunday night the parade of Model A Fords, Packard, Chevys, most open with curtains and some enclosed with glass, started down the hill.

At Camp Baldy I was free of the asthma attacks that plagued me on the ranch. By age five the attacks became more severe and the favored way to stop them was a shot of adrenalin. The doctor visits in the middle of the night soon gave way to the doctor teaching Mother to give these shots herself to stop the severe wheezing. I missed about one fourth to one half of my school time, missing fourth grade altogether, with school work being sent home for me to figure out myself. By high school I had logged the worst attendance record in the school's history and was known for miles as that asthmatic child. Parties were missed. By the start of high school I had built up a tolerance to adrenalin as was used to wake up a dying person. By mid high school George Washington Carver put adrenalin in peanut oil and a shot of this would last an entire day, long enough to go to school.

Being absent so much, I missed many of the student activities. I graduated a year late in June 1942.

While I had graduated in the top ten from eighth grade, high school was more complicated. The school did not let me take chemistry for fear that I would become sick. It was required for college entrance, making it necessary to attend a junior college.

Determined to have a life apart from the protection of my parents, I moved to Ontario, CA and enrolled at Chaffey Junior College in 1942. "You can come and get me if I have an attack of asthma." They did so several times before I graduated. There and at Fullerton Junior College the next year I worked on my college credits, graduating with an AA degree from Fullerton in June 1944.

It was wartime and most schools looked like girls schools. College girls were bussed to visit the boys at camp under very strict chaperonage. Skirts were high, food and gasoline were rationed.

Enrolling at University of California at Los Angeles in the summer of 1944 and living at Hershey Hall I gradually grew stronger. The daily walks to class, the fresh sea breeze, built up my stamina and made me realize that I could be having a lot of the fun I had never had before. I had learned long before to study on my own with speed, and with a beautiful dormitory, lots of friends, my first earned spending money, life became very pleasant. Graduating, Aug. 6, 1946 with a BA degree, I enrolled for a semester at University of New Mexico to learn Spanish Typing and Shorthand before getting a job in the Foreign Department of Security First National Bank on 6th Street in Los Angeles.

Two years later I met Donovan Cable at the Congregational Church on 6th Street and after three months we were married there at Shatto Chapel, July 5, 1950. He had been handicapped as a child by arthritis and had endured many of the same trials. An independent, private, highly intelligent and motivated person he would become a good provider, companion and father.

Son Douglas was born in 1951 and all three of us moved to a coral and white Cape Cod cottage in La Crescenta, CA, joined in 1952 by daughter Leslie. With the children, we did many of the things we had missed as children. Trips to the zoo, Boy and Girl Scout activities, travel all over the United States and church activities followed.

In 1960 we moved to a larger home in La Canada with a mountain view in the front, a valley view in the back, and a large swimming pool. The social calendar was full of school activities, club meetings, bridge games, golf, church and office activities, as well as night classes at Pasadena College, resulting in my Lifetime California Elementary Teaching Credential. All ended abruptly when Don announced that his company was being merged with Kerr McGee Oil and Gas in Oklahoma City.

In February of 1969 Don moved, leaving me to finish my practice teaching, Leslie her Junior year and Douglas his graduation from La Canada High School. Don came back for the graduation and then drove his family to our new home in Quail Creek, Oklahoma City, OK.

Leslie finished high school and joined her brother at the University of Oklahoma, while Don worked hard, often six days a week. Left alone, I enrolled at Central State University in Edmond, OK, graduating in May, 1973 with my Master of Education degree. I also earned the Oklahoma State Early Education Credential and the Oklahoma State Elementary Teaching Credential. In 1970 I took a job as a teacher of Kindergarten, First and Second grade pupils in one room at Oklahoma Christian Schools and would teach with that school in Oklahoma City and Edmond for the next seven and a half years. Leslie and Douglas graduated at the University, Leslie married David Egolf and Douglas went to Wayne State Medical School in Detroit. Don and I took time to travel to eleven countries in Europe and again to many of our own states.

After Don retired in 1979 we moved to the retirement community of Sun City West, Maricopa County, AZ to our first home there, living not far from Leslie and her husband, David and their children Jared and Jennifer. I obtained my Arizona Elementary Teaching Credential and did a little substitute work. Trips to the near East, Hawaii, Central America, Colombia, the Caribbean.
Alaska, and Canada followed.

At the time of this writing we are living in our second home, a Spanish style patio home. The planned retirement activities, travel and active participation in craft clubs, and church activities at First Baptist Church take up all our time. I am a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Arizona Society of Mayflower Descendants, and the Sun Cities Genealogical Society. I love my country, my family, and since I know Jesus Christ as my Savior, my future looks immeasurably brighter than my past.

Earl L. Smith, No. 2

Born - 15 May 1887 to General Cass Smith No. 4 and Lottie Belle Huff No. 5 at Lake City, Calhoun County, IA.

Married - 25 Nov 1910 to Mabel Trenery No. 3, at Spencer, Clay County, IA.

Death - 3 Mar 1981 at Whittier, Los Angeles County, CA.

Burial - 6 Mar 1981 at Rose Hills Memorial Park, Whittier, Los Angeles County, CA.

As a young child, Earl lived in a small gray farmhouse west of Lake City. He had a happy childhood, enjoying particularly the circus visits to town with their red painted wagons, fishing in the creek and his black cat, Snowball.

When he was about thirteen, his parents moved into a three story brick house, which still stands on Olive Street. He and Snowball shared the top room. He is recorded in the 1900 Federal Census of June 4, 1900, 175A, City Ward 1, Dwelling 106, Family 108, which shows him as attending school. The schoolhouse, a two story building with very high ceilings still stands at this writing.

The following is taken from a eulogy written by his son Philip, March 5, 1991. "When he was in his teens he joined his father in the business of a retail shoe store in Lake City, Iowa. His parents moved to what is now Hacienda Heights, California in 1913 and planted an orange and lemon grove. In 1917 the shoe store was sold so Earl and his family moved to California where he joined his father on the citrus grove. A house was built for Earl and his family in 1917 and he lived in this house for 43 years. In total he lived in Hacienda Heights a week short of 64 years. In that large residential area where thousands now live he was one of the oldest if not the oldest resident of that community.

"In 1922 he took up the trade of carpentry at which he worked for 34 years until he retired in 1967. During the latter part he specialized in finish carpentry. He was a true artist with his hands doing beautiful work in many fine homes in Southern California. Part of the time he did some contracting. However, most of the time he worked as a finish carpenter because he was much happier working with his hands than handling the business arrangements.

"When he was 23 years old in 1910 he married Mabel Trenery. This marriage lasted over 46 years until Mabel's death in 1957. While he lived in Iowa his two eldest daughters, Esther and Marjorie, were born. After moving to California a son Philip and another daughter Edith were born. All of his children survive him. Also among the survivors are seven grandchildren and five (s/b six) great grandchildren.

"Earl was a wonderful father and grandfather, well loved by all his family. He was jolly, good natured, well liked by all who knew him and had a zest for living.

"Earl was a life long Christian believing strongly in Christ as his Lord. He was a member of the Christian Church for many years during which he served a term as a deacon. Later he became a member of the Methodist Church. He remained a member until his death."

Mabel Trenery, No. 3

Born - 25 Jan 1890, Le Mars, Plymouth County, IA. to Albert L. Trenery, No. 6 and Elsie Emma Wood, No. 7.

Death - 14 Apr 1957, La Puente, Los Angeles County, CA (at her home) Burial - 17 Apr 1957, Rose Hills Memorial Park, Whittier, Los Angeles County, CA.

Mabel Trenery spent her girlhood in Miller, SD and Spencer Ia., where she graduated from school and later taught an entire grade school.

She married Earl L. Smith, Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 24, 1910, in Spencer, wearing a ring, with a perfect round freshwater pearl that Earl had found for her. She went to live with him in Lake City, IA., until 1917 when they moved to North Whittier Heights, now Hacienda Heights, CA.

She became a much loved person in the community through active participation in local civic, social and church affairs.

She was a member of both North Whittier Heights and La Puente Valley woman's clubs, serving the latter as president in 1943.

She served as president of Hudson Parent Teacher Association and helped organize the high school PTA, later being president of La Puente PTA Council.

She was active in Red Cross, delivering bags of flour to the needy during the depression years, a member of the Coordinating Council, a member of the Parliamentary Procedure group and held book reviews for the La Puente Woman' Club for several years.

She was noted for her interest in current affairs and was far ahead of the women of her day in that respect.

The young married women's class at La Puente Community Methodist Church Sunday School which she taught a number of years, honored her upon her retirement by taking the name of the Mabel Smith Circle.

General Cass Smith, No. 4

Born - 1861 to Peter Smith, No. 8 and Sarah Ann Bosley No. 9, Lake City, Calhoun County, IA

Married - Lottie Belle Huff, No. 5, 6 Sept 1882, Lake City, Calhoun County, IA.

Death - 1928, La Puente, Los Angeles County, CA.

Burial - His ashes were scattered over his fifteen acre citrus ranch on Los Robles Street in what is now Hacienda Heights, Los Angeles County, CA.

On 1 Oct 1879 General won a Fifty dollar scholarship to Iowa City Commercial College at Iowa City. According to the 1880 Federal Census, General was found living with his father Peter, then 54 and his second wife Mary A. (formerly the widow Orr) on Idaho Street, Glidden, Carroll County, Iowa. Both the 19 year old General and his 11 year old sister Dora were in school.

His business training would help him to start and maintain successfully a shoe store business as well as being a farmer and real estate holder.

When he was 21 years old he married Lottie Belle Huff, age 17. He wooed her with flowery letters written in beautiful scroll penmanship and took her to a newly built gray farmhouse, west of Lake City, where they lived until son Earl was about thirteen and they moved into a three story red brick house on Olive Street in town.

Each year when the traveling circus shows would come into town he would let them set up on his property and they would give his family free tickets. Then the big heavy red and gold wagons would parade into town drawn by beautiful horses and it was the highlight of the season.

In 1913 General and Lottie Belle moved to California to virgin land developed from the Lucky Baldwin holdings. He cleared the rocks from the soil on his 15 acres on Los Robles Street in what is now known as Hacienda Heights, Los Angeles County, CA. The rocks were hauled away by mules, 10 acres were planted to Valencia oranges, 5 acres to lemons, a border of grapefruit faced the street and two giant rows of avacado trees divided the 5 acre plots. He built a garage, a barn and a home and a few years later a home for son Earl and family.

He became ill with Pernicious Anemia and although they gave him the new liver extracts he was too far gone. After each dose of extract he gave the bottles to his grandchildren Philip, 7 and Edith 3 who caught flies against the screen on the porch while he watched. Lottie took him for a walk in the evenings and let Edith sit on the footrest of a big grey wicker wheelchair. His death was at Loma Linda hospital with his son Earl at his bedside.

Lottie Belle Huff, No. 5

Born - 2 Jan 1865 to Thomas B. Huff, No. 10 and Eleanor Gawthrop No. 11, at Cassapolis, Cass County, MI.

Death - 10 Jan 1945 at home, North Whittier Heights, Post Office La Puente, Los Angeles County, CA. At age 80 she died from Coronary Occlusion due to arteriosclerotic hypertension.

Burial 12 Jan 1945, Ashes in Niche H-12(3), Faith Columbarium, Maus. II, Rose Hills Memorial Park, Whittier, CA.

After the death of his wife Ellen in childbirth, Thomas B. Huff found homes for all his children except the baby, and this was undoubtedly a traumatic time for a six year old girl.

After her husbands death in 1928, she was active in the North Whittier Heights Womens' Club, the Womens' Christian Temperance Union and church. She liked to garden and crochet.

She never said one sentence about her past, hiding the many hurts forever and always maintaining a "turn the other cheek" attitude. She sang while she worked and was always generous and patient with her grandchildren, treating them like adults, never touching them in demonstrative affection, yet the love was ever assured.

Albert L. Trenery, No. 6

Born - 1864 to John Trenery No. 12 and Therisa Lory No. 13, Platteville, Grant County, WI.

Married - 12 Feb 1889, Elsie Emma Wood, No. 7.

Death - Sept 1896, probably at Miller, Hand County, SD.

Albert Trenery grew up on a farm outside of Platteville, WI with a creek that had a swimming hole in which to play with his brothers.

At age 25, a tall, handsome man with blue eyes, in Le Mars, IA, married Elsie Emma Wood at her father's farm. They stayed in Le Mars at least until their first two children were born. and soon after that moved to homestead land outside of Miller, Hand County, SD.

They never completed the seven year homestead requirements. Severe drought and grasshoppers ruined their crops. He turned to raising another mans cattle on the property and shipping them to Chicago. He hit his foot with an ax and suffered with kidney failure and died when his oldest daughter Mabel was six.

Elsie Emma Wood, No. 7

Born - 23 July 1862 to Norman H. Wood, No. 14 and Harriet M. Wilcox, No. 15, at Springfield, Bradford County, PA.

Death - 13 Feb 1939, Los Angeles, Los Angeles County, CA.

Burial - Her ashes are alongside son Curtis in Spencer, Clay County, IA.

Elsie grew up in Springfield, Smithfield Township, Bradford County, PA on her father's rolling farm. She attended the local Baptist church, a white wooden building with a steeple, on one end of the town's rectangular "square", joining in her early teens.

In July 1881 she received a certificate from the Northern Normal School in Valparaiso, Indiana for Penmanship. She moved with her family to Le Mar, IA and there she married Albert Trenery.

After his death she tried to keep the homestead going long enough to get title. There was a small frame house and a sod barn in which the horse kicked a hole. She started her bread dough in the morning, put her three very young children on the stone boat, a sled like carrier, and herded the cattle by herself as well as the other farm chores, a big task for a slight four foot ten inch woman. While she worked the children played horse with tumbleweeds with strings tied to them. She often spoke of the mirages and the northern lights. When she received her pay she piled all her pails in front of the door to warn her of intruders.

The task proved too much for her and soon she started a millinery store in Miller, living over the store with her three young children. One day a large Indian came into the store and he bought one of her ladies, large brimmed, sheer, pink horsehair hats. He also bought a stuffed eagle on the wall, plucked the tail feathers, put them in the hat, put the hat on his long black hair and walked out with his blanket wrapped around him.

Making ends meet was a struggle so she sent Mabel to live with her childless sister Grace in Spencer, IA. She sold the millinery store in August 1900 and moved to Spencer, Clay County, IA.

On February 17, 1909 she married Barclay Macy. Later they would move and farm land near Donna, Texas, but as age crept up the farm was taken over by Johnson grass and they moved to California to live with her son Floyd in Los Angeles. Barclay died there and she, a bent with age woman, lived until age 76, death being by cerebral hemorrage.

She was a patient, affectionate and loving person and very interested in her family activities. A believing Christian, she regularly sent a part of her small amount of money to a Christian school. She remained bright, intelligent, interested and encouraging to her last day.

Peter Smith, No. 8

Born - 4 Apr 1826 Pike Township, Clark County, OH. to Henry Smith, No. 16 and Sara Shaffer, No. 17.

Married - 28 Dec 1845 to 1/w Sara Ann Bosley, No. 9, Jefferson Township, Cass County, MI; 2/w, 22 Aug, 1876, Widow Mary A. Orr, Lake City, Calhoun County, IA.

Death - 27 Sept 1899, Lake City, Calhoun County, IA.

Burial - 29 Sept, 1899, At Lake City Cemetery, Old Section, Block l, Lot 24, Space 5, Lake City, IA.

Peter, with his parents, came as a boy to Cass County, Michigan and settled with them in Jefferson Township, where he held title to land even as a teenager.

He married at age 19, Sarah Ann Bosley, age 21, at the home of her father, William Bosley, No. 18, the Justice of the Peace being her uncle, John Bosley.

The First Christian Church of Jefferson was organized 27 Nov 1847 and he and Sarah were there, Peter being the first Clerk. In May of 1851 a frame church 30 x 45 feet was constructed for $550, and the minister was paid $60 per annum.

In early 1854 Peter and brother Christian migrated to Polk County, IA. From there they decided to try a hunting expedition to Calhoun county, which proved successful, netting some elk in a game plentiful region. The Indians did not bother them, considering this area a neutral zone. Pleased, Peter purchased a cabin, moving his wife and four sons there shortly. Considered financially well off compared with the other settlers, Peter built a one and a half story log cabin from river timber.

The closest settlement and post office was Des Moines and mail was brought by anyone going to town.

Two years later the town of Lake City was founded with the encouragement of Peter Smith, who became the first judge and was instrumental in locating the county seat at Lake City.

Eager to file on nearby land he competed with a land speculator named Cavanaugh to see who would be first to enter. Cavanaugh started off on a good horse with Peter going on foot. At Des Moines, Cavanaugh stopped for a good nights sleep to be alert when the land office opened in the morning, but Peter kept walking, was first at the door and filed on the land. Two hours later when Cavanaugh arrived and found out, he greeted the news with colorful comments. Land was $1.45 per acre; speculators did well.

In 1863 he started a mercantile business and continued this for ten years, later moving to Glidden, Carroll County, IA, to engage in the grain business with sons Cyrus and Marcus. There according to the 1880 US Census he was living on Idaho Street with his second wife, Mary, son General, age 19, and daughter Dora, age ll.

In 1881 he returned to Lake City where, with one son, he started the Lake City Bank, of which he was president until a short time before his death. As a bank executive he was excellent and the bank grew. He was also an excellent civic leader, a Democrat, a lifelong supporter of the Christian Church, and often aided his fellows when they were in financial trouble due to prairie fires or other problems.

He died quietly in his 74th year after about three days illness. When this author visited Lake City a few years ago, everybody knew about Peter Smith. He rests beside Sara Ann at the foot of a unique marker in the shape of two intersecting diamonds. A few feet away Mary, his second wife rests beside her first husband with the same kind of marker. His pictures are on display at the old schoolhouse, now turned museum; every once in a while there is an article in the local paper telling about their town founder and all in town know where to find his red brick house or tell of some Smith that claims him as an ancestor.

Thomas B. Huff came with his parents from Butler County, Ohio in 1830 as pioneer farmers in La Grange, Cass County, MI. The 1850 U.S Census shows him employed as a cabinet maker with a business that used the power of the river.

After 1843 he joined the Baptist Church of Oak Grove and served as Church Clerk.

The U.S. Census of 1860 showed him as a farmer with real estate holdings of $2,000 and personal property of $1200. By 1870 in Lake City, IA, the census shows real estate of $800 and personal property of $400. The deed book of Calhoun County, now held at the Rockwell City Courthouse, shows he purchased 160 acres on 7 Dec 1867 and 70 acres on 5 Oct 1868 from Peter Smith but sold back the 160 acres to Peter Smith on Oct 8, 1868.

The 1870 U.S. Census shows the family as Alvadore 16, James E. 14, Mary 12, Elizabeth 8, John 6, Belle 5, (Our No. 5), Joseph 4, (s/b) Joie/Josephine, a female and Esther (Hester) 1. Thomas and Ellen are shown as being eligible to vote. Alvadore, James E., Mary, Elizabeth, John and Belle are shown as attending school. There would be added to this family a son Charles.

Marion Pray Peterson writes in CALHOUN COUNTY IOWA that Thomas and Eleanor brought all but their two older sons to Lake City, IA in a covered wagon, with a cow tied on behind, building a log cabin and he supported the family by hunting and trapping.

On March 26, 1874 Ellen died in childbirth. The children were given to anyone that would take them. One was given to a couple passing through on their way to Oregon. Hester and Josephine stayed in Lake City. Some would not meet again until they were grandparents.

The U.S. Census of 1880 shows Thomas 53, 2/w Marrietta 49 and Charles 9 living in Scranton, Green Co. IA with Thomas working as a shoemaker and Marrietta as a milliner.

He died of cancer in 1898 at age 72 naming Marrietta as sole heir of a dwindled estate. He is buried in Lake City Cemetery, Block 2, Space 4. Space 2 is occupied by Ellen, Space 1 by their two month old daughter Elda Mae, born in 1871. Above their heads is a handsome grave marker inscribed "HUFF".

John Trenery, No. 12, Immigrant Ancestor

Born - 10 Jul 1809 to William Trenerry, No. 24 and Mary James, No. 25 at Redruth, Cornwall, England.

Married - 1/w Eliza Polard, 1835, 2/w Thirza/Therisa Lory/Lowry, No. 13., 19 Sept 1848, Grade Parish, Cornwall, England.

Death - 14 Jul 1881, Platteville, Grant County, WI.

Burial - Greenwood Cemetery, Platteville, Grant, WI.

John Trenery, the son of William Trenerry, who owned large mercantile and other interests in Redruth, Cornwall, England came to the United States in 1840, kept the old Blue Run tavern for a time and in 1843 he engaged in mining and auctioneer in Platteville, Grant County, WI. When Eliza Polard, his first wife died in 1847 he was left with four children, Eliza, John Valentine, Ellen and an infant that died three months after its mother.

In 1848 he took these children back to Cornwall, there married Therisa Lory at nearby Grade Parish Church, Cornwall, returned to Platteville and settled on a farm, owning 175 acres in Sections 12 and 13, in what was known as Mitchell Hollow, and 40 of timber in Lima. A founder of the Primitive Methodist Church of Platteville, he was a Class-leader and Sabbath School Superintendent for more than twenty years.

He died 14 Jul 1881 of Thoracic Cancer, at age 72 and 4 days. His marker reads, "A Native of Redruth, Cornwall, England", also below that, "Dearest husband you have left us, And our loss we deeply feel; But there is sweet rest in heaven. We will meet you there again".

Therisa/Thirza Lory/Lowry, No. 13, Immigrant Ancestor

Born - 26 May 1828, Grade Parish, Cornwall, England to John Lory, No. 26, and Jane Gilbert, No. 27.

Death - 15 Dec 1904, Platteville, Grant County, WI. of Paralysis per death certificate.

Burial - 16 Dec 1904, Greenwood Cemetery, Platteville, Grant County, WI.

Thurza grew up on her father's farm, called Arriza on her grave marker but also known as Erisey Manor, in Ruan Major, Cornwall. This is situated in the center of Lizard Peninsula, two thirds in Ruan Major Parish and one third in Grade Parish, with other farms of several hundred acres. The house was the remains of a large stone home. The remaining part is still a large house. Above the stone curved door is carved 1620. Nearby is a large stone barn.

This author visited this area in 1986. First I found the Grade Parish Church, sitting by itself among the fields, and approached by a lane with rose hedges on either side. There among toppled stones and no sign of civilization, was this small stone church that looked like it had not changed since their marriage. Inside it was dark but beautiful. Not far away was the manor house. I went through two pillared stones , past a large old barn, past a very inviting garden up to the old door, now painted red. Nobody was home, and this house, in what the natives call Goondilly Downs, was set in beautiful trees. This was April and my impression was one of tranquil beauty. My daughter, Leslie, visited it in winter and reported the dirt lane was mud and smelled of live stock. So we left it to the superstitious natives, who were so interested in determining if I was really Cornish and not just English.

Thirza was a member of the Primitive Methodist Church in Platteville for twenty five years. She mothered three of her husbands children plus ten of her own, sending them to the red brick schoolhouse in Mitchell Hollow.

She died at 76 years, six months and nineteen days. Her marker reads, "Dearest mother we must lay thee, In the peaceful grave embrace, But thy memory will be cherished, 'Till we see thy heavenly face."

Other Children: From Eliza Polard--Eliza b. 1836, Cornwall, Eng., d. Henry Smith, No. 16.

Born - 14, Dec 1783 in New Jersey.

Married - 7 Apr 1808 to Sally/Sara/Sarah Shaver/Shaffer No. 17. at Botetourt County, VA.

Death - 30 Dec 1851, Jefferson Township, Cass County, MI.

Burial - Reams - Norton Cemetery, Cass County, MI.

We find Henry in the 1810 U.S. Census with two young boys under ten, which would be Joseph and John, himself in the 26-45 age bracket, (He was 27) and Sarah in the 16-26 age bracket, (She was 22). There was a boy in the 10-16 bracket, which could have been farm help.

In 1812 Henry and Sarah moved their two young sons to Pike Township, Champaigne County, Ohio, not far from German Township where her father Abraham had moved two years before. Later it would be Clark County, organized 26 Dec 1817. The new settlers had to pass with fear through Indian settlements along the Mad river on the way.

Henry and Sarah moved their family again in 1832 to Cass County Michigan, buying property on Christiana creek in Calvin township just north of Redfield from Daniel McIntosh, so as to set up a sawmill with sons Joseph and John. The birth of daughter Catarine, 3 Mar 1833, occurred in Cass County. Next he returned to Ohio, leaving Joseph and his family to operate the sawmill, which he soon sold, becoming a very successful farmer in Jefferson Township, where Joseph probably made land entries for Christian and Peter for 80 acres each on 26 Oct 1835.

In the 1840 U.S. Census, Pike Township, Clark County, Ohio he has listed one son 10-15, (which would be Peter, age 14), one son 15-20, (which would be Christian, age 17), himself in the 50-60 bracket, two girls 5-10, which would be Catarine R. and Jemima A. and one female in the 50-60 bracket which would be wife, Sarah.

Henry returned for good to Cass County and on 17 Jan 1844 he filed for 40 acres of land in Section One, Edwardsburg next to the 34 acres of son, Henry W., filed that same day.

Wife Sara died 21 Oct 1849. In the U.S. Census for Jefferson Township we find him listed as a 66 year old farmer living with daughter Jemma A. age 14. Henry died 3

Feb 1851, resting beside his wife in Reames and Norton Cemetery south of Cassopolis beside very worn head markers. It is interesting to note the spelling of daughters Catarine's name indicating German or Dutch origin, perhaps giving a clue to Henry' parentage.

According to Ada Bigelow, "Henry Smith left and estate (Cass File No. 384) appraised at $766, made up of $252.04 in personal property and $514.58 notes receivable. He had no land.--- when the personal property was sold, Peter Smith bought a flat iron for 29 cents, a plate and beeswax for 18 cents, and a cow for $10.25---and gave notes for the whole amount."

Sally/Sarah Shaver/Shaffer, No. 17.

Born - 23 Aug 1788 to Abraham Shaver, No 34 and Susanah ----, No.35 in Rockingham, VA.

Death - 21 Oct 1849, Jefferson Township, Cass County, MI.

Burial - Reams-Norton Cemetery, South of Cassapolis, Cass County, MI.

Sarah moved with her father and family to Botitourt County, VA where she married Henry. When he was age twenty, her brother Peter went to Champaigne County, to German Township, later Clark County Ohio, and one year later, 1810, assisted his father Abraham Sr. in moving there. Henry and Sarah followed them in 1812.

Abraham Sr. died about 1818. On 23 Dec. 1818 Sally and Henry sold to Abraham Gorst for $550.00, one hundred acres lying and being the South part of the North east quarter of Section Six from No. three and Range nine in the County. Further on in the document it states, "Henry Smith and Sally his wife and the woman being examined separate and apart from her said Husband they did both acknowledge the above deed of Conveyance to be their free act and deed and for the purposes therein named the woman thereby relinquishing her right to Dower".

Here are some excerpts from the obituary of Polly A. Neff in the Lake City Graphic of Thursday Sept. 12, 1895. "For fifty nine years they walked side by side until on June 24th, 1881, death claimed the husband, and left the wife lonely--"

"They were both members of the Methodist Episcopal Church during their early wedded life in Ohio, Mr. Bosley being an earnest efficient class leader in that church. Both were faithful workers in the church until they moved to Michigan, where they united with the Christian Church; and, on their removal to Lake City they united with the old Christian Church of this city, and continued members of that church until death called them--"

"Grandmother Bosley was a quiet, retiring disposition; but she made many friends, and to know her well was to love her for her many good qualities. She was a remarkable woman in many ways and her life was full of good deeds."

"Until Sept. 27, 1894 she enjoyed good health for one so advanced in age, on that day she fell and received an injury that kept her bed fast until Thursday, Sept 5th, 1895, when she quietly passed away."

"On Friday Sept. 6, many friends and relatives assembled at the home of Mr. G.C. Smith and after scriptural reading and prayer, went to the church at Cottonwood, where, after an appropriate sermon from Job V:26 by Rev. C.B. Winter of M.E. Church and prayer by Rev. Encell, of Woodlawn Avenue Church, her remains were placed by the side of her companion in Cottonwood Cemetery." (G.C. Smith was her grandson.)

Aside from his marriage record, the earliest proven record of Isaac A. Hough was the 1830 Federal Census of the Town of Miltonville, Madison Township, Call No. 042, Butler County, Ohio. The 1840 Federal Census for La Grange, Cass County, Michigan lists Isaac Huff, Peter Huff, Abraham Huff and John Huff.

On 11 Nov 1831 entries for land was made by J.V. and I.A. Huff filed for 80 acres in Section 29.

He came at age fourteen to Smithfield, PA. and worked for nine years with his family to make a home, injuring his health by the hard work in chopping down trees, an injury that would stay with him the rest of his life.

Because of this he was sent to study medicine at a high school at Tioga Point, but soon he was engaged as a clerk in Clement Paine's store at the Point. He was not able to do the heavy work at the store so he decided to try farming again.

His father, Samuel Wood, gave him land west of the Hale farm and south of the road. Slowly he cleared the land as he was able and erected a small frame house. During the winters he taught school, boarding at home, the wages helping him to establish himself. In 1818 he married and they began housekeeping, being noted for providing a comfortable and happy home and rearing responsible children.

In 1828 he was converted and became a preaching teacher with the Baptist Church, which he did faithfully. He became interested in the Disciple church and was one of the founders. On 11 April 1834 the Disciple church voted to have him serve as a teacher in their church. On 4 Apr, 1835 it was voted to continue with him and pay him for service, and he was a leader until his death, baptizing many of the Wood family. The William Wood Genealogy, written by family members called him, --"beloved and respected by all with whom he came in contact."

Stephen Wilcox, No. 30.

Born - 28 Nov 1792, Ashford, CT, the son of Weeks/Wicks Wilcox No. 60. and Sally Hutchinson, No. 61.

Married - 1 Dec 1814, Halifax, Windham, VT to Polly Allen, No. 31.

Death, 9 Sept 1874, Smithfield Township, Bradford County, PA.

Burial - Wood Cemetery (Marker at Union Cemetery) Smithfield, PA.

Stephen Wilcox was a farmer. At about 22 years of age he moved with his young wife from Halifax, Windham Vt. to Smithfield Township, Bradford County, PA, being one of the first pioneers there.

Some accounts (Clement F. Heverly and Myrtle Hazel Wilcox) credit him with being in the War of 1812, however when this author tried to get his military data from the U.S. Government, I received a negative answer.

He cleared land for a farm and erected a log home on high ground overlooking the rolling fields. Later he would erect a simple two story clapboard home, still standing at this writing, which the locals today refer to as "Century House". This house overlooks the farmlands below. On his death, the farm was occupied by his son, E.U. Wilcox.

He worshiped with his family in a church at Church and Main Streets in East Smithfield, PA. This church is active today as "The Federated Church" and is a beautiful classic New England style white church, with a large entrance door, long windows on either side and an elongated pyramid for a steeple. Inside the pews have a center line division, probably in the old days a family thus occupied one half of the long pew seat.

"Although living in a slave State, none of the family ever owned slaves, in fact, without exception they were opposed to human slavery."

Peter Shaffer, son of Abraham, at age 20 went to Clark County Ohio and a year later assisted his father in moving there.

Abraham died about 1818 to 1820. Probably he left some land to daughter Sally, (see Henry Smith No. 16).

Abraham Huff/Hough/Hoff, No. 40.

Christened - 5 June 1763 Neshanic, Somerset, N.J. to Isaac Hof No. 80 and Catrina Van Neste, No. 81.

Married - Elizabeth -----, possibly Vanderripe, No. 41. (Note: In Mercer County, KY Marriage Records, Register 1, Page 94, it reads Abraham Huff - Patsey Coovert, March 13, 1804.)

Death - 23 Nov 1850, La Grange Township, Cass County, MI.

Burial - Shurte Cemetery, Cass County, MI.

Abraham Huff and his brother migrated from New Jersey to Mercer County, KY. His older brother, Isaac, born 1758, served 16 months in military service in the Revolutionary War. There is no formal record that Abraham served, but the argument persists that he did some service even though there is no credit given except on his gravestone. They both are on the tax records of Mercer County KY in 1800, but not in 1790.

About 1803-1804 they both moved to Butler County, OH to Lemon Township and in 1807 they are found in the special census there, and on the 1810 tax list. Little is know of these farmers in this period except there is a mention that Abraham served as a "viewer on the road", perhaps in connection with the War of 1812.

In 1820 they are both recorded in the U.S. Census. Abraham Hoff having 2 males 16 to 18, 2 males 16-26, himself at 45 and over as well as one female 10 to 16 and his wife at 45 and over. His oldest son John and wife are listed by themselves.

In 1830 he is listed with one male 20-30, himself as 60-70 and his wife as 60-70 with Isaac A. and John P. listed by themselves.

Soon after Abraham and his sons moved to La Grange, Cass County, MI. In Section 29, Abram Huff filed, Oct 16, 1830 for 80 acres, A. and C. Huff, on Nov. 11, 1831 for 80 acres, J.V. and I.A. Huff, on Nov 11, 1831 for 80 acres. In neighboring Volina Township, Isaac Huff filed March 26, 1833 for 137 acres, Peter Huff on April 6, 1833 for 40 acres and Cornelius Huff, June 6, 1834 for 40 acres. It is difficult to sort out all these young men, some may belong to older brother, Isaac, and some to Amos Huff of Cass County. However, Isaac A. Huff and Peter belong to Abraham for sure.

In the 1840 Census, for La Grange Township, Isaac, Peter and John are listed along with Abram Huff listed at 70-80, wife 70-80 plus another female 50-60, perhaps a housekeeper.

In 1850 Abraham is 87, showing no occupation and living in the household of Thomas and Sarah Higgins. In a few months he will be dead and buried in Shurte Cemetery, now heavily wooded and isolated among the corn fields in Cass County.

David Brady, No. 46.

Born May, 1785, Sussex County, NJ., possibly to Richard, shown in Mansfield Tax of 1793 or William, shown in Wantage Tax of 1793. (He had a son and a grandson named Richard and a son named William.)

Marriage - Frances Vanderhoof, No. 47, m. bef 1809. All accounts state that he had several wives, the 1850 U.S. Census listing Abigail 44 years to his 66 years. In Marion County, Ohio, in the Marriage Records, Vol.. 1, Page 671, there is a record of a David Brady marrying a Fanny Cornell on 10 Feb 1829, this marriage ending in an Ohio Legislative Divorce for desertion several years later. In the death records of his daughter, her mother is listed as Fanny and she named a daughter Fanny. It must be noted that when this marriage took place Nancy Ann was a grown woman and already married.

Death: 12 July 1878, La Grange, Cass County, MI at age 93, 1 month and 14 days.

Burial: Brady Cemetery - SW Corner - SW 1/4 , Sec. 21, La Gramge township. 1/2 mile from Oak Grove Road.

Howard Rogers in History of Cass County from 1825 - 1875 wrote, "Mr. Brady is a good representative of the hardy class of pioneers who made the early settlement of the West, possessed of an iron constitution and a will that knew no obstacle, elements absolutely necessary in subduing natural obstacles and bringing the wilderness under subjection for the use of civilization. He is of rather rough exterior, but kind hearted and generous to a fault."

David Brady was a person of the community. He was one of the guests at the first wedding held 1 Jan 1833 in the second story of the old red store. He was one of the judges of the Plowing Match at the fair of 1851.

In Waterman, Watkins, History of Cass County, Michigan, he was described---

"A well-known character who arrived in the township this year (1829) was David Brady, a hard rider and great hunter, noted for his fondness of pursuing Reynard and other game. His pack of hounds did much to clear the country of wolves and various other animals which were pests to the pioneer farmers, and were usually designated as 'varmints.' He rode a horse which could clear any fence in the country. Brady, who was originally from New Jersey, and born in 1785, went into the war of 1812, and in 1816 settled in Marion County, Ohio, from whence he came to Michigan. He stopped for a short time in Kalamazoo County and a township was there named after him. He lived in La Grange, on Section 21, until his death in 1878, at the age of ninety-three.

He had many eccentricities, some of which might be emulated to the good advantage of the people in general--and others not. Among the former class we may cite his kindly treatment of the poor and his liberality to them, a trait which is very often spoken of by the old settlers who knew him. It is related that when corn was very scarce and high priced and many poor farmers in want of a sufficient quantity to carry them through the winter, he refused to sell out his crop to speculators or to let any of his applicants have large lots, but sold to those who were in need at half price. It was a common thing for him to send provisions to poor widows in his neighborhood and to assist deserving young men. There were few men of kinder heart than David Brady--and few of rougher exterior or manners. He was a man of great native intellectual ability, but uneducated. His natural shrewdness, wit and strength of mind drew around him many admirers from other walks of life than that which he followed. Nearly all of the eminent lawyers of the State who had business in Cassopolis were in the custom of paying Brady a visit before they departed for their homes, and the best of them found a congenial companion in the rough, unlettered pioneer farmer. He was a man whom education would undoubtedly have developed into as great a giant intellectually as nature had made him physically. Mr. Brady was married several times and reared a very large family of children--over twenty--". "Venison was a very common food among the pioneers--far more so than pork or beef for a number of years. A good marksman like Tietsort or David Brady could at almost any time bring in a deer carcass after an hour's hunt."

Jacob Lory, No. 52.

Born about 1752 to Richard Lory, No. 104 and June Toll, No. 105. at Tregonning, Cornwall, England.

Married 28 Oct. 1773, Alice Harvey, No. 53.

Death - 1834 at St Keverne, Cornwall, England.

Burial - Parish church at St. Keverne, Cornwall, England.

The family residence was near St. Keverne. Jacob Lory was a well to do farmer, owing the estates of Tregonning, Treveliack, Pennenna, Pollywest, Chynals, Kilter, Kingy, Arrowan, Gwendra, Polkerris, and Treskewis.

Jacob Lory purchased Tregonning from Arscot Beekford, Esq. This estate still has traces of its original buildings, chapel and cemetery.

This author visited the parish church at St. Keverne. After passing through a stone arch one enters the church yard and the grey stone church into a well kept church. To the right, high on the wall a memorial plaque reads, "To the memory of Jacob Lory, Gent. of Tregonning in this parish St. Keverne, who died A.D. 1834, age 82, and who was interred in this churchyard."

"During a long life of constant industry, temperance and frugality, he honestly accumulated wealth. He was a true follower of the Church of England, in whose communion he lived and died a loyal subject of his King, and attached to the Institutions of his country."

"Near his grave lie the remains of Alice, his wife, who died A.D. 1823, age 70. She was a kind mother and a faithful wife. She partook his cares and aided his success. A sincere and humble Christian who never made an enemy. She lived in peace and charity, and died in hope of the resurrection through Christ."

"In gratitude to his parents their son Jacob has erected this tablet, 1836."

Outside by the right rear corner stands the two white grave markers that were about shoulder high for a woman, still showing little wear.

Samuel Wood, No. 56. Revolutionary War Soldier.

Born - 26 Jan 1761 Westminster, MA, to Nathan Wood, No. 112 and Rebecca Haynes, No. 113.

Married 8 June 1784, Westminster, MA. to Anna Calef/Califf, No. 57. He married 2/w Hulda Cole 15 Jul 1804.

Death - 8 Oct. 1828, Smithfield, Bradford, PA, age 67.

Buried - Union Cemetery, E. Smithfield, PA.

Samuel Wood spent his youth on the family farm in Westminster.

When he was still in his teens he served several enlistments in the Revolutionary War. The first one of twenty seven days was under the command of Major Bridges, in which he marched from Westminster to reinforce the northern armies and oppose the invasion of Burgoyne. The battle of Bennington was fought Aug. 16, he being detailed on the guard to the baggage train and did not participate in the fighting. The second one as a private under Col. Abijah Stern's regiment, on duty at or near Boston. He served three months and five days. Next was in Col. Rand's regiment for nine months, mustered July 13, 1779. In a descriptive list of men from Worcester County in 1779 in the Continental army he is described as eighteen years, five feet four inches, with a dark complexion. Again he appears in a list of nine months men. Time of entering service, July 23, 1779, discharge April 23, 1780 under Capt. Summer. Finally he appears as private under Col. Rand's regiment, raised for three months by resolve of June 22, 1780 to reinforce the Continental army, with service of three months and twelve days, being discharged Oct. 11, 1780.

It was during this last service that an interesting event took place according to family history. On the 23 of September a supposed spy was captured by three historic "cowboys". They started at once with their prisoner toward Col. Jameson's camp but they met a party of twelve soldiers from Col. John Rand's regiment, under command of a sergeant, who were out on a foraging scout. The soldiers took possession of the spy. The sergeant took off one of his stirrup straps, buckled it around the spy's wrists and giving the other end to Samuel Wood, he ordered that he be led to the camp that was under the command of Lieut. Col. Jameson. Later this British spy was taken to West Point with a trial ordered by George Washington. Ten days after his capture he was hanged with his true identity being revealed as Major John Andre, Adjutant General of the British army.

Samuel Wood returned to Westminster, MA. until 1783 when he removed to Halifax, Windom County, VT where he purchased for one hundred pounds, on May 13, 1783 from Moses Larned of Westminster, MA, a tract of land in Halifax of one hundred and four acres.

Samuel Wood took his wife Anna Calef to Vermont and she bore him eleven children, but she would die there in Halifax. The next year after her death, Samuel bought another farm of 75 acres and married Hulda Cole of Halifax.

In 1809 Samuel and his sons, Moses, 20, Ezra, 15 and Johnathan, 13, headed for Pennsylvania. At an inn north of what is now Athens he met John Shepard who convinced him to look at some land in the Township of Smithfield. He bought three hundred and sixty acres agreeing to pay in wheat and money, a debt that would take many years to resolve, and one that his sons would later help to pay off.

The three sons were left behind while Samuel returned for the rest of his family. When they arrived by ox cart the boys had cleared four acres of land near a spring and they seeded that portion to wheat. The next season they cleared thirty acres more, harvesting about 500 bushels of wheat from this. He was so eager to pay his debt that the boys hid some of the harvest so that the family would have enough until the next harvest. They had to struggle to make ends meet and carried all their grain to Milltown, which was ten miles away, on horseback to be ground.

The old log house was replaced by a frame one and in 1859 a large brick house replaced that, which was still there in 1985, when this author visited the site.

Samuel Wood, being one of the very first settlers, was eager to start a church. In Samuel Wood's own handwriting is found the record of the first meeting on 19 Dec 1809 at the home of Reuben Mitchell for the purpose of forming a new church. Letters were sent to the Baptist Missionary Society in Massachusetts, and he was moderator at the first business meeting held at the house of Reuben Mitchell, 25 Jan 1810. Often the meetings were held at the school house or the home of Samuel Wood, and one meeting was held at Deacon Samuel Wood's barn on 20 Sept 1815. As the congregation grew the need for a church was felt. It was necessary to transport all the material from Catskill, on the Hudson, at a cost of eighty dollars a ton. It required twenty bushels of wheat to pay for a box of glass and four pounds of butter to pay for a pound of nails. The people met this great expense and a 36 by 50 foot building was built with a pulpit and rough benches, raised in June 1819.

Death - 12 March 1804, Halifax, Windham Co., VT.

Burial - Whitneyville, Cemetery, Halifax, VT. Her stone has the image of a sunny face engraved on it. The grave was never filled in when the box fell in and the vines make it appear as level but it is deceptive and one could easily break a leg with a misstep. The stone reads,"In Memory of Mrs. Anna Wife of Dea. Samuel Wood, who died March 12th 1804 in the 40th year of her age. 'Death tho hast conquer'd me - I by thy dart am slain - But Christ my Lord has conquer'd thee - And I shall rise again".

Within a year he was elected one of the Standing Committee of the township, and after the Act of Incorporation, was chosen for five year as assessor and nine years Selectman. He was the first representative to the Colonial Legislature and a member of that body in Salem in Oct., 1774, when it became the first Provincial Congress, thus leading the revolt which resulted in the independence of the Colonies. He was also a delegate to the two succeeding Provincial Congresses, thus being one of the first legislators of our country.

He was an earnest worker in the church and held the office of Deacon as has several of his descendants. His entire family was present at his burial.

Stephen Calef/Califf, No. 114, Sergeant in Revolutionary War

Born - 15 Mar 1734.

Married - 22 May 1755, Waltham, MA, Anna Stearns, No. 115. Married 2/w, Rebecca, widow of Jonathan Temple, Intention filed 17 June 1813, Westminster, MA.

Death - About 1814, about 80 years of age.

Anna Sterns, No 115.

Born - Probably, 21 Nov 1723, Middlesex, Watertown, MA to Daniel Stearns, and his first wife Anna ----.

Death - 19 Jan 1810, Westminster, MA, Age 73.

William Sweetzer Heywood in his History of Westminster states that, "Stephen Calef was in Narraganset No. 2 as early as 1755, in which year, May 22, he m. Anna, dau. David and Mary Sterns of Waltham". "He is said to have been a physician before his removal hither, (Westminster), and if so, may have practiced medicine somewhat during the first years of his residence in the place. Much confidence however is not to be put in the report. On the 2nd of July, 1756, he purchased lot No. 73 which included the almost entire southern extremity of Graves Hill, the site of the buildings erected and occupied by him on the summit.----Mrs. Calef d. Jan 19, 1810, a. 73 and he m. (2) Rebecca, wid. of Jonathan Temple, who survived him. In 1797, he sold his homestead to Isaac Miles and the last years of his life were spent on the Temple place."

Henry Bond in his Genealogies of the families and Descendants of Early Settlers of Watertown, Waltham and Weston states that Stephen and Anna were dismissed to the church at Westminster, 22 Apr 1765. This would indicate that they lived in Waltham, having their first five children there, however all their children are in the Westminster Birth Records. Bond also gives credit to Daniel Sterns (Fourth generation, Isaac, No. 1; Samuel, No. 2; Nathaniel, No. 3.) and 1/w Anna ----, for being the parents of Anna, having her born about 1723, which would make her older than Stephen Calef, and having her first child at age 33, in those days unlikely.

Featured Child: Anna Calef, No. 57.(Fifth born).

Other Children: 1. Ann, b. 29 May 1756; 2. Stephen, b. 17 Dec 1761, d. 2 July 1764; 3. Lois, b. 22 Dec 1762, d. 7 July 1764; 4. Abigail, d. 11 July 1764; 6. Stephen, b. 11 Mar 1767; 7. Ebenezer Goodenough/Goodenow, No. 126

Born - 21 Apr 1739, Marlboro, Middlesex, MA to Jonathan Goodenow, No. 252 and Lydia Rice, No. 253.

Married - 1 Apr 1762, Holden, Worchester, MA, to Tabitha Nickols, No. 127.

Death - 1829 (older than 90 years)

A detachment of men from Captain John Biglo's Company of Holden of Col. John Chandler Jr.'s Regiment marched in 1758 on the late alarm for the relief of fort William Henry, marching from Holden to Sheffield, 113 miles away. All served 17 days closing 19 Aug 1758. Among those men was Ebenezer Goodnow, aged 19. The next year in 1759 he served nine months.

Soon afterwards, (before 1763 when the birth of his first child was recorded), Ebenezer Goodenough removed to Guilford, Windham, VT. With a party of about eight men, they came into the town by the way of Broad Brook, beginning at the mouth of that stream on the Connecticut River in Vernon and passing up on its banks. That was then the only road, and even that was impassable with teams. The first settlers had either to boil or pound their corn, or go 15 miles to mill with a grist upon their backs.

He was recorded in the census of 1771, In 1772 he had a household of seven and in 1790 the U.S. Census showed him with 1 male over 16, 2 under 16 and 6 females.

William Neff Sr., No. 152.

Born - 16 Mar 1708/9 Westerly, RI. to Clement Neff, No. 304 and Mary --------- No. 305.

Baptized - 24 June 1725, Windham, CT. and Owned the Covenant, 10 October 1725, at Hampton Congregational Church, Windham, CT.

Married 11 June 1733, Windham, CT., Grace Webster, No. 153.

Death - March 1749, age 40 years.

Dorothy Neff Curry's research states, "On 22 Feb. 1732, William's father, Clement Neff, gave 'for love to son William my 100 acre lot on which I now dwell with all buildings, fence privileges in consideration of the help and comfort in my old age and the help he shall afford his mother Mary,'etc. In Sept. of 1734, William, who then had a wife and son Benjamin, deeded this farm back to his 'Honored Father Clement Neff' and in return 'Clement Neff by deed of gift to dutiful son William of Windham' gave him an 86 1/2 acre piece of land bordering on Merick Brook, the 'twelfe hundred lot' in the 'west tear....to my son William as his full portion of my estate.' William did not keep the farm his father gave him very long. On 21 Dec. 1736 he sold 30 acres of it for 6 Pounds to his father-in-law, Benjamin Webster. This must have been practically a gift, considering the way land values were soaring at that time."

William bought and sold farmland, owning at one time or another a tract of land on both sides of Little River, about 60 acres on each side, and 25 acres 'lying northwardly from Beaver Brook Hill in s Windham'.

William left no will, his estate administration going to his widow. The inventory of personal property was extensive, including iron skillets, tramel, pewter plates, wooden dishes, a pillion, feather beds and bolsters, shoe making implements, a warming pan, a woolen wheel, plus other furniture, cows, calves, and a horse. Later, Benjamin, Thomas, Joseph and Ruth sold their share of the estate to William Neff Jr.

Clement Neff, No. 304.

Born - 29 Mar 1674 Haverhill, Essex, MA. to William Neff, No. 608 and Mary Corliss, No. 609.

Married - 6 Oct 1689, Mary Button, No 385.

Death - Between May 17 and 3 June 1736 at Stonington, CT.

Burial: Probably at Cedar Swamp Cemetery nearby where Thomas and Eleazer Brown are buried- no stone.

Clement Neff removed to Westerly, RI as there is a sale on 5 Apr 1708 of 50 acres of land by Thomas Reynalds for 50 pounds. He also paid 1 pound 9 d for a share in common land in Sept. 1711. On Oct 1711 he is involved in a quit claim with a group of men in Westerly.

A deed establishing Clement Neff of Westerly and son of William was recorded December 25, 1734 to Joseph Neff. "Know All men by these presents that I Clement Neff of the Town of Westerly in the Province of Rhode Island on the consideration of fourteen pounds part in hand paid and the Rest Secured by Bill under the Hand of my brother Joseph Neff of Haverhill in Essex in New England Do hereby acquit all Manner of claime from all and every part both real and Personal of Ye estate of my Father William Neff of Haverhill Decd and of my Mother Mary Neff both for myself and my Heirs forever. Witness my hand and seal this 32 Day of October 1711. Clement Neff and Seal, Witnesses; Josiah Gage and Jon Lad."

"Windham Sep 16th 1734 Mr Clement Neff the Subscriber to the above written Instrument personally appeared and Acknowledged the same to be his Act and Deed-- Before me Richard Abbe Justice of the Peace."

On 23 Mar 1716 he and wife Mary sold 63 acres for 125 pounds in Westerly and even though he was now a freeman of Westerly, he removed to Hampton, Windom CT. There he purchased from Joseph Dingley on 28 June 1715 for 42 pounds 100 acres "situat lying and being in the northe easterly part of a sd Windham and is the fourth lot in the second tear and the first bound westerly by the highway a hundred rod to a white oak stake from thence northerly by a hundred acre lot of Mr. Webb's and sixty rod to a sassifax from thence easterly by a hundred acre lot of Mr Sam Whiting a hundred rod to a stake from thence southerly by Christopher Bidlakes land a hundred and sixty rod to the first mentioned bounds."

There were three purchases of land in 1723; from Daniel Edward on 9 May for 100 acres, from Joshua Lassal on 16 July for 100 acres and from Joshua Lassal 86 1/2 acres on the Merrick Brook. Much of this land he later sold, some to his son William who later deeded it back to his father. He made a net profit of these land transactions of 461 pounds plus the 86 1/2 farm he gave to son William.

Clement then moved his family to Stonington, CT, purchasing for 600 pounds 300 acres located on "Breakneck Hill", now found on Route 84 from New London, CT. to Providence, just beyond where route 2 from Westerly to Norwich intersects it, and in that part of Stonington which is now the town of North Stonington, CT. On 4 Feb 1737 he sold 69 of the 300 acres getting back half of what he had paid for all 300 acres.

Not only was he an excellent farmer of cattle, horses, sheep and hogs but he had a shoe business and there are several mentions of him being a cordwainer or maker of shoes.

Clement Neff's will was dated 17 May 1746 (Present File No 3817 at CT State Library). In it, among other things, he bequeathed to "my dear and well beloved wife Mary Neff one hundred acres of land that lies together joining to the dwelling house together with the dwelling house and all my household goods and all my cattle, horses, kine, sheep, hogs and all my moveable estate--" To his "dear son, William Neff, the sum of five pounds money of ye old tenor to be paid in twelve months after my decease."

In his will and his wife's dated April 1752 (Folder 2826 Probate Dept., CT State Library) appears the phrases showing their firm Christian beliefs-- In his, "I give and bequeath my soul into the hands of Almighty God that gave it me nothing doubting that at the General Resurrection I shall receive the same again by the Almighty power of God. That gave it me in and through the merits of my most beloved Lord and Savior Jesus Christ."

David Munroe, No. 314.

Born - 6 Oct 1680, Lexington, MA to William Munroe, No. 628 and second wife Mary Ball, No. 629.

Married - About 1704, Deborah How, No. 315, of Concord, MA, at Plainfield, Windham County, CT.

Death - 19 June 1755, Canterbury, Windham, CT.

David Munroe migrated to Canterbury, Windham, CT in his youth just as that area opened up. In 1714 he purchased a farm of 136 acres from Samuel Adams and Obadiah Johnson, a deed recorded in Canterbury. A division of common lands occurred among those "who were settled inhabitants and paid to ye building of ye meeting house and minister's home", both completed in 1711. David Munroe received one and one-half shares.

In 1722 David and Deborah joined the church in Canterbury. By 1743 there arose a controversy over a sermon by its minister. A committee recommended the minister's dismissal and David and five others made written protests, criticizing their report. The committee then recommended that the six be expelled from the church, the result being that the minister was dismissed and the others remained.

In 1725 he receipted for Deborah's share of Samuel How's estate. That record of this transaction showed that when Mary How died in 1727 she called Deborah Monroe her daughter. David Munroe's own will was probated 8 Sept 1755.

Born - 3 Dec 1679, Sudbury, MA to Thomas Smith, No. 908 and Abigail Rice, No. 909.

Married - About 1699, Boston, Elizabeth ------, No. 455.

The property of Thomas Smith Jr. was among those on good land with good timber, and meadow with mill possibilities on Wash Brook in the new grant territory of Sudbury, MA, but ice on the river in winter and spring floods isolated these good Puritans from their church and meeting house in Sudbury. Hence a movement was started to divide the town into two precincts, in each of which there would be a church and a meeting house. In the petition to the General Court, Thomas Smith, along with his father, were signers. Many years later this wish would be fulfilled.

Thomas Nelson, No. 466 and 474

As a baby he was taken to Plymouth with the family in 1675 to escape the horrors of the Indian war. He joined the Swansea church and each Saturday he traveled twenty miles with his family to attend services, returning Monday morning. At Swansea he occupied a small house that he built for that purpose. He is said to have been the first Baptist church member to live in Middleborough. He was perhaps the first white settler in Lakeville, a part of Middleborough. He bought a home on Assawaupet Neck and moved there in 1717.

Hope Huckins, No. 467 and 475.

Born - 10 May 1677, Barnstable, MA to John Huckins, No. 934 and No. 950 and Hope Chipman, No. 935 and No. 951.

Death - 7 Dec 1782, Middleboro, MA, age 105 years, 6 months and 20 days.

William Richard Cutter states, "He (Thomas Nelson) married Hope Hutchins, a woman of strong character. Once when she was alone in the house, hearing a noise in the cellar, she descended in the dark and caught an Indian who was glad to escape from her grasp with no worse injury than torn clothing, after a frantic struggle with his unknown assailant. She joined the Baptist church at Swansea, August 5, 1723, and afterward became a member of the Baptist church of Middleborough, where she attended communion in her one hundred and fourth year." At that time she had lived longer than any of English descent born in Barnstable.

Married - 10 Nov 1673, Hannah Sabin, No. 497, Seakonk, (Rehoboth), MA.

Death - 14 Jan, 1703.

Joseph Allen, settled in the northern part of the town on Castle Hill, since known as the Allen Place. In 1673 he was granted two lots of land, one being between those of his father, and the other bounded on the east by the road to Natick.

He was a cooper by trade, his house and shop being built before King Philip's war. On 21 Feb 1676 the Indians came to burn down the town. They took shavings from the shop, piled them upon the kitchen floor and set fire to them. Fortunately they had been piled upon a trap door, which when consumed, let the burning pile fall into the cellar where the flames were soon extinguished. All the other houses in that part of town were destroyed.

Probably as a share of his fathers possessions, he was given by him, six acres of land, but not mentioned in his father's will.

He was listed as a proprietor in 1675 and 1701. He was a Freeman 11 Oct 1682 and admitted with his wife to the first parish in 1697. All children were born in Medfield, MA.

Samuel Streeter, Sr. No. 500.

Born - Parentage uncertain. It has been proposed that he is possibly the son of Stephen, (the son of Stephen and Ursula) and Deborah Smith of Cambridge, perhaps born at Muddy River or he could be the son of Samuel (the son of Stephen and Ursula) and Mary Horne and thus the grandson of immigrant Stephen and Ursula, but this is speculation. However, the odds are very strong that he is the grandson of Stephen and Ursula Adams. Stephen Streeter b. 9 Jan 1600, England, m. He called himself yeoman in his will. He resided near enough to the Cambridge church to go there for the baptisms of his children, but does not appear to have been a land holder in Middlesex County. He resided in or near Cambridge until 1706 or after, and years later was with wife Mercy, (who may not have been the mother of his children) in Framingham, where his will was dated. In it it names the children born in Cambridge, including his son Samuel.

William Neff, No. 608.

Born - Between 1639 and 1642.

Married - 23 June 1665, Mary Corliss, No. 609, at Haverhill, MA.

Death - 16 Feb 1688/9, Pemaquid, ME, fighting Indians, age 47

Undoubtedly William Neff came from England, but how and where is uncertain. Neff, an English name, and the fact that he was at Newberry among the other new English settlers also leads one to think this. At first he was working at an inn, and then the townsmen hired him as Town Herdsman, a position of importance and trust since cattle and horses were scarce and valuable, for which he was paid in half by English corn and the rest in Indian corn, hard cash being saved for emergencies by the early settlers.

When he married Mary Corliss, George Corliss, her father, gave them a farm . In those days it took a great effort to carve a home and farm and to bring up a family in virgin forest while in constant danger from Indians, incited by the French and of the ongoing ways to increase the family income. William built a home by 1668 and here raised six children. One of the ways he increased his income was by being a surveyor.

In Feb 1688/9 He was drafted for the army by the much-hated Gov. Andros and with a party of men he went to Maine and died at Pemaquid.

His inventory of the Estate included: 10 aker and half of meddow; 10 aker common right; 2 beds bedding; husbandry implements of Iron and wood; two beds and bedding old and worn; a chest; pots tramil and tongs fire shouell (shovel); earthen and wooden dishes and trays; a pillian; 8 chairs whools a coll, a hundred of pork; half a barrol of soap, four bushel and a half corn and moall; eighteen pounds of yarn; 4 pounds boox; a sin gorn; hogs lard and another box; cordus box bullot; books; and a cow.

Mary Corliss, No. 609.

Born - 8 Sept 1646, Haverhill, MA to George Corliss, No. 1218 Immigrant Ancestor, and Joanna Davis, No. 1219

Death - 22 Oct 1722, Haverhill, MA. Age 76.

Mrs. Mary Neff was a credited colonial heroine in the Haverhill Indian massacre of 1697. By then her husband had been killed by Indians as had their oldest son William.

Her daughter Mary had married Matthias Button Jr. and moved to Plainfield and her three younger sons, all in their twenties had left home, leaving only son Joseph.

Mary, a cheerful and helpful person, had gone to the neighbors to help Hannah Duston and her 6-day old baby when a band of Indians entered the house. Even though the English had tried to maintain friendly relations with them the French had offered the Indians bounties for English scalps and for live English captives to be sold as slaves in Canada.

Mary, a 50 year old, tried to pick up the baby and run but was overpowered and Hannah was ordered out of bed, with time to put on only one shoe. The Indians then ransacked the Dustin house and burned it, while a few of the Indians hustled the two women and baby into the woods, one grabbing the baby and swinging it against an apple tree, killing it in front of the women. The Indians pushed on for twelve miles that night, reaching the place where the squaws and their children were left. There were twelve Indians in all in the party, including a 14 year old white boy, named Samuel Lennardson, captured at Worcester over a year before.

The party pushed on for 150 miles or more and the fearful women were told that when they reached the Indian Village they would be stripped and made to run the gantlet, a ritual where they would be forced to run between two lines of Indians, men, women and children, who would beat them with clubs, tomahawks, etc. With this in mind, Hannah planned an escape which she told to Mary and the boy Samuel. They asked one Indian how he killed and scalped the English and not suspecting anything he told them in full detail.

They reached the Indian home at the junction of the Contoocook and Merimac Rivers, then full of spring flood waters and the Indians assuming that the women were too tired to worry about, posted no guard and went to sleep. A little before midnight, the two women and Samuel, each armed with a tomahawk stole silently and all three tomahawks fell as one on the ten sleeping Indian men, taking their scalps in one of the stolen sheets. They ran for the canoes, cutting holes in all but the one they used. Traveling by night, taking turns guiding the canoe, in constant fear of roving bands of Indians, they reached Bradley's Cove, going the rest of the way to Haverhill on foot. The two women, who had been given up for lost, created much excitement.

Taking the scalps, Hannah's husband and the three went to Boston, arriving April 21, 1697 where Mr. Duston petitioned the House of Representatives, June 8, 1697. On that date it was voted that 25 pounds be paid the Dustins and Mrs. Mary Neff and Samuel Lenerson were paid Twelve pounds Ten Shillings each, the larger sum of the Dustons probably being because they lost their estate.

Besides this many gifts were given to them as the petition stated, "an extraordinary action, in the just slaughter of so many of the Barbarians".

There are three statues commemorating this act. The first erected in 1861 at Haverhill, a block of Italian marble five feet square and and twenty four feet high. The second erected in 1847 at Penacook, NH, and the third in 1879 at G.A.R. Park, Haverhill.

William Munroe, No. 628, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - 1625, at Aldie, near Inverness, Scotland, to Robert Munroe of Aldie, of the Clan Munro of Foulis.

Married - First wife, 1665, Martha George, married second wife, 1672, Charleston/Cambridge/Lexington to Mary Ball, No. 629, married third wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson Dwyer.

Death - 27 Jan 1717-18, Lexington, MA, aged 92.

William Munroe was taken prisoner by Cromwell in the battle of Worcester and banished to Boston, MA. He was shipped from London on 11 Nov 1651 in the "John and Sarah" and consigned to Mr. Thomas Kemble of Boston. If he was sold as an apprentice to pay his passage. In 1657 he was fined in Cambridge for not having rings in the noses of his swine. About 1660 he settled in the northeasterly part of Cambridge Farms, now known as Lexington. He was freeman in 1690, in 1694 he was a selectman of Cambridge. He was received into Communion of the church on 1 Feb 1699 and later held several important parish offices. His tax bills from 1693 to 1698 show that in taxable property he was among the first six men of the parish, showing he was a man of enterprise and character.

His tombstone states, "William Munro Died Jan. 27, 1717-18 Aet. about 92 yrs."

His house looked like a "rope walk", said his great-granddaughter, so many additions had been made to it to accommodate his sons, keeping his family together and distinct as was the custom of the Scottish clans.

Williams ancestry is now presented at this point because it is quite lengthy and hard to follow if presented in the format of the rest of this book. It will be shown that William Munro was descended from the founder of the clan Munro, Donald, who in the year l025 assisted King Malcolm in his war with the Danes. This is traced through eleven chiefs of the clan, ten of whom were Barons of Foulis and five succeeding generations to his birth in Aldie, Scotland in 1625.

His father. Robert Munro of Aldie, No. 1256, was a great-great-grandson of Sir George Munro, tenth Baron of Foulis.
He was Commissary of Caithness. He had four sons, one Benedict escaped to Germany, and became Baron Benedict von Meikeldorf, and a daughter, Elizabeth.

Farquhar Munro, No. 2512, inherited the lands of Aldie, and was therefore called Farquhar of Aldie. He was the fourth son of John Mor Munro, No. 5024 (Mor meaning great) and Elizabeth Vass, No. 5025, who was the eldest son of Rev. John Munro.

Reverend John Munro, No. 10,048, the second representative of the House of Coul. This clergyman was a Master of Arts of the University of Aberdeen. He received his land direct from the crown. He married a Mackenzie lass and they had six sons.

Hugh Munro, No. 20,096, the father of Rev. John Munro, No. 10,048 was the founder of the cadet family of Coul, near Alness, and was the third son of George Munro, No. 40,192.

George Munro, No. 40,192, the son of Hugh Monro, No. 80,384, succeeded his father in 1425 as the tenth Baron Fowlis; and it is from Hugh Monro, that the Monro family of Lexington, MA is descended in direct succession. During the lifetime of George Munro, that locally famous battle between the Mackenzies and the Munros which is known as Beallach-nam Brog, or the Pass of the Shoes, because the combatants to protect themselves from another's arrows, took off their shoes and tied them on as brestplates.

Hugh Monro, No. 80,384, acquired lands at the hands of his cousin, the Countess Euphemia of Ross, and fought under Donald, Lord of the Isles against the Duke of Albany in their contest for the Earldom of Ross. Hugh by his first wife, Isabella, No. 80,385, grand-daughter of Sir Edward Keith, Great-mareshal of Scotland, fathered son George, No. 40,192. He succeded his father in 1369.

Robert Munro, No. 160,768, father of Hugh, No. 80,384, suceeded his father as the eighth Baron Fowlis as a mere child. He was less warlike and interested in increasing the family estates. He acquired much new land. He was one of the Baron-Bailes of the Earldom of Ross, a very important office in feudal times. He was killed in a clan fight in 1369.

George Munro, No. 321,536, was the seventh Baron Fowlis inherited the succession from his grandfather. His father, No. 643,072 was killed in the battle of Bannockburn. George, like his grandfather fought with Bruce, and took part in the battle of Halidon Hill against the combined forces of Baliol and Edward Third, in which at least fourteen thousand Scots were killed along with George. He had married a doughter of the Earl of Ross.

Robert Munro, No. 1,286,144, sixth Baron Fowlis lived during the bloody and famous civil wars over the succession to the Scottish throne. Through them all Robert Munro remained steadfast to the party of Bruce, which represented Scotch independence; and, although an old man, he fought with his clan at the decisive battle of Bannockburn, where his only son was killed. Eight years later old Robert was also dead.

George Munro, No. 2,572,288, accession was in 1239. The record of the clan rests upon indisputable written evidence and the family history is absolutely authentic and undisputed from a date only fourteen years later than the signing of the Magna Charta. This first really attested Munro, George, received the family lands by a special charter form Alexander the Second, before 1249; and this charter states that the lands were held of old by his ancestor, Donald. George died in 1269.

All information on the first six generations of Munros is founded only upon tradition, strong tradition but unsupported by documentary proof, as is practically all family information at these early dates.

Robert Munro, No. 5,144,576 was the fourth Baron Fowlis, who married a daughter of the Earl of Sutherland.

Donald Munro, No. 10,289,152 was the third Baron Fowlis. He is said to materially aided William the Lion, the first Scotch king really to establish sovereignty over the Highlands and suppress unchecked lawlessness of those northern regions.

Robert Munro, No. 20,578,304 was the fourth of the Munro line and second Baron of Fowlis. He was buried in the chanonry of Ross, which became the family burial-place for four centuries thereafter, until the Covenanters, the violent Presbyterians, impelled them to seek a burial place untainted by the papacy.

Hugh Munro, No. 41,156,608, was the first Baron of Fowlis. From him the title and estates came down in uninterrupted lineal male descent for almost eight hundred years, a fact unique in the annals of Scotland and England.

George Munro, No. 82,313,216, helped Malcolm Third, son of King Duncan, wrest the Scottish throne from Macbeth, whom Shakespere made immortal. George died just at the beginning of the twelfth century.

Donald Munro, No. 164.626,432. tradition says, received at the lands from Malcolm Second, for aid given to that king against the Danes, the land on Alness Water called Ferindonald (or Donald's land)), later becomming the Barony of Fowlis. Malcolm Second died in 1034, making the family origin older than those that came over with William the Conqueror.

Pieter Pieterson Van Nest, No 648. Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - To Peter Van Nest, No. 1296 in Holland.

Married - abt. 1652 Judith Jorise Rapalje, No. 649, Immigrant Ancestor, daughter of Joris Jansen Rapalje, No. 1298 and Catelyna Trico/Trice, No. 1299

Death - bef.. 1698.

Burial - Raritan, Somerset, NJ.

Pieter Pieterson Van Nest came from Utrecht, Netherlands to New Amsterdam in 1647 and settled in Brooklyn. His last name is often written in early records as Menist/Meinst.

As a carpenter he and Gerrit Nansen Roos sued, on 17 Aug 1654, Jan Coopal for a balance due them on a house they were building for him.

He was one of the old members of the Dutch Church at New Amsterdam, a note beside his name stated that he removed to the Wallabout and was on Donine Van Zuuren's lists of church members of 1677.

He was taxed 73 Florin for 'making and sheeting' the Heere Graght, now Broad Street on Feb. 13, 1660, and the next day he bought a lot on the Heere Graght from Frerick Lubbersen and sold it the same day to Hendrick Jansen Spier. On May 16, 1661 he witnessed a sale of an anker of brandy. He was on the assessment rolls of Brooklyn in 1675, 1676 and 1683 and took the oath of allegiance in Brooklyn in 1687, on which he stated he had been living here for 40 years.

Judith Jorise Rapalje, No. 649.

Born - 5 July 1635, the daughter of Immigrant Ancestor Jansen Rapalje No. 1298 and Catelyna Trico/Trice, No. 1299, Immigrant Ancestor from Holland.

Death - Before June 6, 1726, on which date letters of administration were granted Pieter Van Neste, her son, on the estate of Judith Van Neste, of Somerset Co., NJ.

Judith joined the Brooklyn church, 9 Apr 1664. In 1698 Judith Van Neste appeared in the Brooklyn census of that year as head of a family, so it is likely that Pieter Pieterse died prior to 1698.

John Haynes, No. 904, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - 1621, Sutton, Mandeville, Wilts, England, to Walter Haynes, No. 1808, Immigrant Ancestor and Elizabeth Gourd, No. 1809, Immigrant Ancestor.

Married - 13 Oct 1642, Sudbury, MA, Dorithy Noyes, No. 905, Immigrant Ancestor.

Death - After 1 Oct 1692, (the date of his will).

John Haynes came in 1638 with his parents, brothers and sisters on the ship "Confidence", listed as under sixteen years of age. This family was one of the very first to settle on Sudbury Plantation and were instrumental in setting up the system of land use and government.

John Haynes was a Freeman in 1646 and a Deputy to the General Court, as well as being a Deacon.

Peter Noyes, the father of Dorithy, a leader and advocate of the open field or group ownership of land had prevailed in his ideas and the land was given over to individual plots for houses, the size depending upon position and money and group meadows to be administered by the town. This worked well until a new group of youngsters came to the stage where they needed land as well. They could buy into the existing meadows but these were becoming crowded with beasts, so new land was to be added.

John Haynes was one of six who advocated individual farms. After much bickering, this concept finally prevailed.

John Haynes house was the designated "garison house" for the settlement, built with strength in case of an Indian attack. On 18 Apr 1676 a band of about one thousand Indians attacked Marlborough. Their usual method of attack was to draw out the soldiers from the garrisons and away into an ambush. They did not want to engage the garrisons, however, or come into the range of their guns. A company of soldiers marched out of Boston for relief of Marlborough, however, the Indians began to creep slowly in about Sudbury by 20, April. Most of the houses, except the garrison houses in Sudbury were burned and Capt. Wadsworth with 70 men came down to assist, eleven of them being slain. The remainder was increased by some tired men from Sudbury, making eighty in all, who fought the Indians from a hill until the Indians set fire to the woods at the windward of them, forcing them to retreat, and destroyed all but thirteen of them, who reached the Noyes's mill where they defended themselves until being rescued by fresh troopers. Deacon Haynes house was attacked with fury by large numbers but was successfully defended from six o'clock in the morning until one o'clock when the Indians abandoned the assault.

There were troops from Watertown, Charlestown, Concord, as well that arrived, most late in the day. The men had fought against fearful odds, the Watertown men falling back to the Goodenow's garrison. About 200 men had held their ground against a thousand Indians. The next day the soldiers buried their dead.

Letters asking for aid were sent to England, the settlers listing their losses, John Haynes, John Smith, Joseph Noyes, and Peter Noyes, among others signing the request.

David Thomas, No. 928 and No. 944, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - About 1620, probably in Wales.

Married - Before 1649, Joanna -----, No. 929 and No. 945, Immigrant Ancestor.

Death - 1698, Middleboro, Plymouth, MA

On 8 July 1645 David Thomas was a witness at court in Salem, MA. He lived in that part of Salem that was soon to become Marblehead and attended the meeting on 22 Dec 1648 to determine the division. His allotment on the common pasture with the livestock of 44 settlers was one-half a cow's pasture.

In 1661 he removed to that part of Salem that later became Beverly and witnessed in a court action in June of 1661.

In Beverly he owned Lot 16, with no house and part of Lot 15, which fronted on what is now Cabot Street and 300 yards from the John Balch house built in 1636, standing in 1980. Lot 15 contained about 25 acres, which he sold in 1668, describing his part as five acres with a house.

On 30 May 1664 a bill of sale from Dea. Thomas of Bass River sold to Richard Norman of Marblehead, one-half a cow's pasture upon the town common. He was a resident in 1674. His wife Joanna executed her consent to the sale of the Beverly property, dated in Plymouth, 14 Jul 1669. They moved to Middleboro and their son Edward's birth is the first entry in that towns record.

In Plymouth Probate No. 20274,of David Thomas, it states that under date of 3 Oct 1689, that "Joanna Thomas Relict widdow, of David Thomas late of middlebury deceased, with David Thomas, Jeremiah Thomas, her sons" as sureties, was appointed to administer on the estate of her deceased husband above-named". This stands as proof of their parenthood of these two men.

John Whitehead, No. 1254, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - About 1631, Possibly Milford, Surry, England, or Lemington Priors, Warwickshire, England, or Bulkington, Warwick, England, to ------ Whitehead, No. 2508 and Elizabeth Alcock, No. 2509.

Married - 25 May 1660, Branford, Ct, Martha Bradfield, No. 1255.

Death - Between 1682 when he choose his portion of plow land and June 1695 when the inventory of his estate was shown, at Bradford, New Haven, CT.

John Whitehead and his brother Thomas were brought as mere children by Francis Hall of Milford, Surrey, England to Guilford, CT at the request of George Alcocke of Roxbury, MA. George Alcocke lived for a year after the boys arrived in June 1639 but Mr Hall made no attempt to locate him, instead he sold their services to Mathias Hitchcock claiming he should recover his expenses and asked the court permission to regain his money 1 Dec 1641, with the court agreeing and stipulating that the boys be well versed.

George Alcock of Roxbury, their uncle tried before his death to get the boys with no success and his sister wrote from Lemington Priors, Warwickshire to find out about them.

The court permitted brother Thomas to be worked by a David Atwatter for three Pounds a year meat, drink, and clothes for four years, eight months but the child was never heard from again.

Concerning younger brother John, Francis Halle was to have freed him and pay him fifty shillings by order of the court.

Instead John Whitehead was put to work for Jasper Crane who on 4 July 1648 complained that John Whitehead, servant, did not have a pine in the lock of his pec, and required a new stock be made by the gunsmith. The court passed this without a fine and although he left Mr. Hall he appears to have received only ten of the fifty shillings that the court ordered Mr. Hall to pay. On 6 Feb 1648 Mr. Crane sued Francis Hall for sundry items, one of which was forty shillings "due Jno. Whitehead, his servant, wch was ordered by this court for Fran. Hall to Paye".

John Whitehead settled in Branford, CT and married Martha. They became members of the church in 1653. He was a party to a new church covenant in 1667, and in 1669 was nominated for freeman.

On 19 Jan 1669 the Recorders court at Branford did "sentence yt the said John Whitehead shall paye or cause to be payed unto William Hoadly the sum of 15S for ye damiage that the said John Whitehead's hoges did m. William Hoadly's orcheat in eating of his apples."

He deeded land to John Charles on 18, May 1678, to Samuel Frisbie on 19 Jan 1669 and to Quitton Stockin 27 Dec 1680 but the records do not show how he obtained the land. In 1682 he and others choose their plow land.

The eight surviving children were listed in the inventory of the estate by widow Martha as follows, John, oldest, who died soon, Samuel 23, Eliphalet, 21, Thomas, 14, Hannah, 31, Mercy 27; Damaris, 25 and Elizabeth 18. Martha, the widow, deeded land to these but six of them deeded the use of the house etc. back to her, (including Mercy Luddington), for "Love, Good will and Dutifull affection to our Dear Mother Martha Whitehead". She later deeded land to Hannah, in "Consideration of the great care and relief which I have had from my Daughter Hannah In my long weak desolate condition."

Joris Janson Rapaljie /Rapalie, No. 1298, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - Rochelle, France. abt. 1600.

Married - Catalyntje Trico, No. 1299, Immigrant Ancestor, probably in Europe.

Joris Jansen de Rapalie, a Huguenot from Rochelle, France with ancestors traceable to the 11th century, came on the vessel "Unity" to the New Netherlands in 1623, settling first at Albany, but finally at Brooklyn, where he became prominent.

He purchased from the Indians there a tract near Wallabout Bay, (now the Navy Yard area) in 1637.

Catalyntie Trico, No. 1299, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - 1605 at Valenciennes or Paris, France. Some authorities say her father was Joris or George, however others find in Dutch manuscript records that she is recorded as Catalyntje Jeronymus implying that her father was named Jeronymus in Dutch or Jerome in French. She gave this name to her eighth child and third son.

Death - 14 Feb 1684/5 at "fouer score years or thereabouts".

One Jasper Danckaerts, was engaged in a secret mission for the Labadists, seeking a new home in America for members of that sect. He kept a journal and he went with a friend, Arnold De la Grange, to the Wallabout to visit the latter's aunt and wrote this about Catalyntje. "This aunt of de la Grange is an old Walloon woman from Valenciennes, seventy four years old. She is wordily minded, with mere bonte, living with her whole heart, as well as body, among her progeny which now number 145, and will soon reach 150. Nevertheless, she lives alone by herself, a little apart from the others, having her little garden and other conveniences, with which he helped herself." Mere bonte meaning with mere human goodness.

John Howland Jr., No. 1486.

Born - 24 Feb 1626/7, Plymouth, MA to John Howland, No. 2972, No. 3742, and No. 3806, Immigrant Ancestor and Mayflower Passenger and Elizabeth Tilley, No. 2973 and No. 3743, and No. 3807, Immigrant Ancestor and Mayflower Passenger.

Married - 26 Oct 1651, Plymouth, MA to Mary Lee, No. 1487

Death - After 6 May 1693, Barnstable, MA.

The date of Lt. John Howland Jr's birth is certain as he informed Chief Justice Sewall of this date in Barnstable in 1702.

He removed to Marshfield and thence to Barnstable about 1658. At Barnstable his farm consisted of 90 acres, and in 1672 he conveyed by deed the easterly half to his brother-in-law Elder John Chipman.

He held many town offices, was lieutenant of the military company, and freeman in 1658.

He was opposed to the intolerant party led by George Barlow of Sandwich, and there is some evidence in early life that he favored the Quakers. He, however, joined the church 18 June 1699 in the company of two other aged men, Joseph Lothrop and James Lewis.

William Luddington, No. 1652, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - About 1607, Turvey, Bedfordshire, England.

Married - Ellen/Helen Moultrap, No. 1653.

Death - 1661, East Haven, CT.

William Luddington, a weaver, came to this country about 1640 and settled in that part of Charlestown, Massachusetts, which later became Malden. His house was beyond the half-mile limit from the village which had been set by the General Court; that law being repealed 13 May 1640. He would hold this land until he died and an inventory of this land was petitioned on l Oct 1661 and granted that next April.

In the meantime William Luddington had removed to East Haven, CT and purchased land there, the inventory there showing he owned a house and land at the time of his death, and at some time, one hundred acres of land was set out to him by a deed from his son William to Thomas Robinson, 25 July 1723, of a "part of that tract of land set out to my father William Luddington which tract contains one hundred acres."

His real estate was in the vicinity of the iron works, established in 1655, on that side of the river which was then a part of New Haven. These works were the first in Connecticut and continued for twenty-five years, supplied by what was bog ore, which was worked until exhausted, but not before giving a reason for the establishment for the towns of North Haven and Branford.

Not much is known about his life in East Haven except for some court records. He deposed on 29 Oct 1657 and 5 Feb 1659 and his wife deposed 29 Oct 1657 and he and James Barret brought suit for slander, 27 Mar 1660.

Ellen/Helen Moulthrop/Moultrap, No 1653.

Born - 1619.

Married - Between March 3 and May 1663, second husband John Rose.

Death - Between 1665 when she attested to an inventory of a man named Shepheard and 1670 when John Rose took a third wife.

At the court hearing 3 March 1662/3 she was asked if William Luddington had made a new will and she said she knew of none. At the next court hearing she and her children above fourteen years of age was ordered to appear and the court would order the estate and consider how the children's portions would be, but they were sick on that day so later John Rose was told that he must post bond when called thereto.

William Wood, No. 1792, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - 1582, Matlock, Derbyshire, England.

Married - Margaret Snyder, No. 1793, England.

Death, 14 May 1671, Concord, MA.

Many historians credit him with being the author of "New England's Prospect,". In Holmes, Directory of the Ancestral Heads of New England Families, it states that he "came from Matlock, Derbyshire, Eng., to Salem, Mass., 1629, returned to England 1633, settled Concord, Mass., 1638, where he died 1671." This book was printed in London in 1634 and has been reprinted many times, copies are available today. In this book, the author first mentioned the name of Musketaquid, the original name of the river in Concord, where William, the father of Michael resided, a name not known to but a few. Another argument, besides the oft repeated claim for him was that there were books mentioned in his inventory, including one separate listing of "A book".

We do know for certain that he came in 1638 to this country, accompanied by his wife Margaret, a son Michael, a daughter Ruth, unmarried, and a nephew, the wealthy and Hon. Thomas Flint. William Wood came directly to Concord, being one of the first settlers there. No children were born to William Wood and his wife in Concord.

At Concord he served on the committee to divide the South Quarter in 1665, as well as filling many other important offices in the town.

When he made his will, 15 Sept 1670 he stated that he was 88 years old. In that document he states, "I commit my soul into the hands of God trusting in his gratitude, for everlasting salvation by Jesus Christ --" After providing for his daughter, Ruth Wheeler, giving her a cow, kettle and pot and Mr Bulklyes Books upon the Covenant, remembering his grandchild Abigall Hosmer with a cow, he gave the rest of his real and personal estate to son Michael Wood, appointing him executor.

Walter Haynes, No. 1808, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - 1583, Sutton Mandifield, Wiltshire, England to Alice Haynes, No. 3617.

Married - Elizabeth Gourd, No. 1809, Wiltshire, England.

Death - 14 Feb 1664, Sudbury, MA.

Walter Haynes grew up in England under the open field method of farming where the farmer lived and owned his home but shared common agricultural land. There he learned the trade of linen weaver. Besides his home in Sutton Mandifield, he also owned a house and other buildings on the island of Purbeck in the southeast part of Dorsetshire.

He came to New England in the ship "Confidence" with his wife Elizabeth, and sons Thomas, John and Josias, all under sixteen, and daughters Suffrance and Mary, along with servants John Rediat, John Blandford and Richard Biddlecome, arriving in Boston in 1638.

A year later he removed from Watertown, MA to Sudbury, having a grant of land 22 Dec 1639. He was perhaps the first to build on the west side of the Sudbury river, was believed to have built the Haynes Garrison house, which was near the old Haynes home and stood until the middle of the nineteenth century. His homestead was in the northeast section of the town.

He was admitted freeman 13 May 1641; he was on the first board of selectmen and served in that position for ten years; was commissioner to end small causes in 1645; he was a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company;, and he was a born leader respected by his fellow men in all questions of open field management and the setting up of a government, which differed from that many had known because for the first time some of them had been allotted land.

His will dated 25 May 1659, with a codicil dated 4 March 1663/4 was proved 4 April 1665. He bequeathed to wife Elizabeth, sons Thomas, John and Josiah; the son-in-law and his daughter who remained in England.

Peter Noyes, No. 1810, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - 1591, Penton Grafton, Weyhill Parish, Hampshire, England.

Married - 1/w Elizabeth, 2/w m. 1625, Abigail ------, No. 1811. both in England.

Death - 23 Sept 1657, Sudbury, MA.

Peter Noyes, yeoman, grew up in an area where his family was considered one of the leading families in the parish. They owned two large estates in an area where most of the farming was done in open field system, or joint management of pastures and farmland, so he was familiar with both systems. He was respected and successful, not persecuted for his religious ideas so just why he turned in his lands to the Lord of the Manor is not known, but he did retain possession of some individually owned land in Andover, his most valuable asset, which he would will later to his sons.

At age 47, he set sail from Southampton in April 1638 in the ship Confidence with his eldest son Thomas,age 15 and daughter Elizabeth. He settled at Watertown, MA. and while there he went out to view the site in the Musketaquid valley where an expanse of grass, about three thousand acres impressed him as a site for a town, crossed by streams and with few large Indian settlements. The arable land though would need fertilizing with fish. Along with Edmund Brown and Brian Pendleton they petitioned the Massachusetts General Court for a grant for a town in 1638.

With this accomplished he returned to England for more of his possessions and came again on the "Jonathan", this time with daughters Doreyti and Abigale to start life in Sudbury Plantation.

In England he had served as juryman in the manorial court and church warden but he would as a natural born leader in the next twenty years attend one hundred and twenty nine separate official meetings, as well as informal church gatherings, church services and even sessions of the Massachusetts legislature, and as founder be responsible for over six hundred and fifty separate "orders", carrying the weight of law and often the power of life and death over his townsmen.

He was a very popular man, elected by the townsmen as Selectman for eighteen years, Representative in 1640, 1641 and deacon of the church. It was he who helped decide the land allotment for the open field arrangement, a very difficult task as the townsmen had come from all over England, each town differing in the way they handled matters. England was not too particular about how each town governed itself in New England so it was up to the town members to decide. Through the first twenty years there was love and harmony and the system worked well, a great deal of credit for this belonging to Peter Noyes.

However, as a new crop of sons grew to maturity and needed land to start their own families it became necessary to add new land. The youngsters voted for individual farms and for the first time Peter Noyes was out of office in 1655. He felt depressed to see the atmosphere of love and cooperation turn to bickering. He died in 1657 feeling defeated.

He willed his English property to his sons which had paid good rent all those years, and remembered his daughters and pastor as well as his wife and a kinsman.

Rev. James Noyes, No. 1812, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - 1608, Cholderton, Wiltshire, England, to William Noyes, No. 3624 and Anne Parker, No. 3625.

Married - 1634, England, Sarah Browne, No. 1813, Immigrant Ancestor.

Death - 21 Oct 1656, Newbury, MA, aged 48.

Unlike the Peter Noyes family, the Cholderton Noyes family had been in the middle of the struggle over church reformation. Reverend William Noyes, the father, was an Oxford graduate and of a conservative nature and James and his elder brother had also gone to Oxford. James matriculated at Brasenose College, Oxford 22 Aug 1617, but the influence of his cousin, Reverend Thomas Parker and the Noncomformist appeal was so strong for James, aged 25 and brother Nicholas, aged 18 that they came in the "Mary and John", 26 March 1634/5 with Rev. Thomas Parker to Massachusetts.

After a short time, they came to Newbury to work in the ministry with Rev. Thomas Parker, where he was a teacher in the church for more than twenty years. He was a Freeman in 1634.

He wrote several books. He never liked restricted membership in the church. In his book "The Temple Measured" he stated, "the Churches may become impure, notwithstanding any thing we do, gifted men do easily learn the language of the pure ones."

His will was signed 17 Oct 1656 and probated September 1656, bequeathing to wife, children, brother Nicholas and cousin Thomas Parker.

Robert Darvell, No. 1814, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - West Berkhamstead, Herts, England.

Married - Esther -------, No. 1815, (Second wife).

Death - 26 Feb 1662, Sudbury, MA.

In England Robert Darvell was appointed Chief Burgess of the borough of Berkhamstead, a position which gave him a permanent place on the town council and a voice in all borough affairs. In addition the chief burgesses were the principal body of the church vestry and served in all the church posts, prompted by orders from the bishop. They were in a position to levy at least fourteen rates and spend them for the parish needs and solve certain social problems, acting virtually unopposed by their community. He also held the position of church warden, overseeing the care of the orphans, needy, and maintenance of the church building. This background became the early training for this man who would take an active part later in the Sudbury Plantation in Massachusetts.

Robert Darvell was also a landowner. As many men left for the new country, he had purchased their land so he had gained land in Northchurch and Herts, adjacent to Berkhamsted. After having been an independent landowner it must have been hard to adjust to the open field method at Sudbury, where he increased his acreage from 22 acres he held in England to 44, but remained in the same economic position (fourteenth).

In Sudbury the tax was voted upon by the people of the town, paying up to 5s/acre, in the drought year of 1630, probably higher than any one of the parishioners in Berkhamstead had paid while he was there, where normally he paid 4s/9d total on his 22 acres.

He was elected to the governing council. The first recorded order in the town was in April 1639 when Robert Darvell along with Edmund Rice, Thomas Goodenow and Andrew Belcher were chosen to patrol the fences around the group fields.

When the time did come for expanding the town with new land, Darvell, perhaps remembering what it was like to own land independently in England, suggested a way of land use other than that that had been used the past few years.

John Jenny, No. 1862, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - About 1594, Norwich, Norfolk, England.

Married - 1 Nov 1614 Leyden, Holland, Sarah Cary, No. 1863, Immigrant Ancestor.

Death - 1644, Plymouth, MA.

Charles Edward Banks says of John Jenney, 'He was a cooper by occupation and called a 'brewer's man' from Norwich.." While he was in Holland he could speak Dutch and would sometimes attend the Dutch Church.

John Jenney arrived on the "Little James" in Plymouth, MA in 1623, with His wife and three children. The Little James was a new vessel of forty-four tons built by the Plymouth Adventurers to remain at the Colony. In a letter to James Sherley, dated 7 Sept 1623, Capt. Bridges wrote concerning Sarah, "was delivered of a child in the Ship a month before we cam a shore and both are well yet, God be praised". The voyage had lasted three months and John Jenney had served as the ship's cooper.

George Willison found these items regarding John Jenney. Granted "libertie to erect a mill for grinding and beating of corne upon the brooke at Plimouth, " in 1636. Also, nothing was too large or too small to escape the attention of the General Court (Plymouth colony) ---- Assistant Govèrnor John Jenney was called on the carpet in 1638 "for not grinding well and seasonable" in his grist mill on the banks of Town Brook, near Billington Sea. After his death a few years later, Sarah, his wife was cited for not keeping the mill clean.

John Jenney served as Assistant Governor of the colony from 1637 to 1640.

William Nelson, No. 1864 and 1896, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - England

Married - 27 Oct 1640, Plymouth, MA, Martha Ford, No. 1865 and No. 1897, Possible Immigrant Ancestor.

Death - Between 31 Oct 1679 when his will was dated and 5 March 1679/80 when it was probated.

William Nelson was in Plymouth as early as 1636 and is recorded in March 1637 as being hired to keep the cows that year at the same wages he had the last year. On 3 Aug 1640 he was granted six acres of upland. He was a freeman in Plymouth in 1658. His name appears on the list of those able to bear arms in 1643. He was one of the first settlers in 1662 at Middleborough, being a freeman there in 1658 and he took the oath of fidelity in 1659. He was one of the original purchasers of the Twenty-six Men's Purchase. He served in King Philip's war. In 1669 along with John Thompson, he was appointed to run the line between Mamasaketts then called Major's Purchase and Marshfield, Duxbury and Bridgewater. In 1672 he and Lt. Peregrine White were appointed to lay out the meadows on Pachogue Neck and uplands on the Bridgewater side.

Martha Ford, No. No. 1865 and No. 1897.

Born - to the Widow Martha Ford No. 3731 and No. 3795, who came on the Fortune in 1621. There is much speculation as to whether she was born in England, whether her father was on the ship, which is likely since the passengers were lusty young men and her mother was heavily pregnant or that she was the child that was born as soon as her mother landed. The fact that she and her husband, William Ford were granted land by right of his wife as "One of the first born children" on June 3 1662 in Middleborough tends to support the later, in spite of the fact that Winslow reported the child to be a son. What happened to her father is unknown. All this information has been turned over and over for many years and a final answer is most unlikely, as is the case of Martha Ford Nelson's share in the cattle distribution of 22 May 1627.

Death - 5 March 1683/4.

Thomas Huckins, No. 1868 and No. 1900, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - About 1617, England.

Married - 1642, First wife, Mary Wells, m. 2/w abt. 1650, Rose (Tyllie ?) Hyllier, widow of Hugh Hyllier, No. 1869 and No. 1901.

Death - 9 Nov 1679, He was cast away in his vessel in a gale, killing himself in his 62nd year and his son Joseph.

Thomas Huckins came to this country before he was 21 years old and became a resident of Boston, there he became one of the twenty-three original members of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company. To be a member of this company was a great honor and rare for such a young man without he belonging to an influential family in the mother country. He was a member of Mr. Lothrop's church, so respected at that time.

He held many public offices. On 4 Oct 1675 he was appointed Commissary General of the Colony in charge of the sole management of procuring supplies and forwarding them to the soldiers engaged in the Indian war, a job done to the entire satisfaction of the court. He was a freeman in 1652, Constable in 1646, Selectman in 1668, '70, '71, '72, '74, '75, '77, and '78, and Deputy to the Colony Court in 1669, '70, '71, '72, '74, '75, '77, and '78. He was elected a member of the Council of War for the colony on 5 June, 1671 and to the Town Council in 1676. He was a member of the committee to audit the colony accounts in 1669, '70, and '72. In 1677 he served on a committee to adjust the claims against the colony for expenses incurred during the Indian war. He was a surveyor of highways, a member of the grand and petit juries, and in 1670 and 1671, along with Thomas Hinckley, he was appointed by the court "to look after the minister's rate".

On 1 March 1652/3 he was licensed "to sell wines and strong waters". He kept a tavern at Barnstable. He was several years a receiver of the excise imposed on the importation of wines and liquors and on powder and shot. The return of 1663 shows that he was the captain of the packet that year and brought into the town a supply of wine, brandy, rum, liquors, shot, and a barrel of powder.

He was not only a businessman but a man in whom his townsmen placed implicit confidence as a man of integrity and ability.

He was a man who was against the bigotry and narrow sectarianism which ruled in Massachusetts at that time. The only cloud on his moral character was one charge on the criminal calendar of having abused a servant, a charge which when brought to court resulted in no fine or punishment being imposed.

He held extensive real estate. His house lot was six acres of upland granted 14 July 1640, butting on a little creek, now called Huckins Creek, "that comes out of ye great creek by Rendezvous Creek and runs up into ye woods". From the earliest time there has been a wharf and landing place near its northern terminus, where it joins the "Great Creek". Then this tract was covered by ponds, salt marshes, maple, hornbean, and was of no value for agricultural purposes, but it was here that he kept his tavern.

Also he owned nine acres of land in the old common-field, two in the new, next to Matakeese pond, and 3/4 of a acre for his "horse prison". He owned eleven acres of meadow at Sandy Neck, two acres of marsh, meadow, a freshwater creek, and wharf lying by his house. In partnership with Nathaniel Bacon and John Phinney, he owned ninety-six acres of upland and fresh meadows situated in West Barnstable. He also bought the farm of Isaac Robinson, when the latter moved to Falmouth.

John Chipman, No. 1870 and No. 1902, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - About 1614 - 1621, Bryans-Piddle, Dorsetshire, England to Thomas Chipman, No. 3740 and No. 3804.

Married - 1646, First Wife, Hope Howland, No. 1871 and 1903 and 2/w Ruth Sargent Bourne.

Death - 7 Apr 1708, Barnstable, MA.

John Chipman was the only son and heir to Thomas Chipman. He had two sisters, Hannah and Tamson, who married and remained in England. His father died early and he resided with his uncle, Mr. Christopher Derbey. In May 1637, Richard Derbey, son of Christopher, came to America bringing with him his sixteen year old cousin, John Chipman. In 1642 John arrived at legal age and tried to get his inheritance. It was under the control of Christopher Derbey, who cheated his nephew out of this rather large estate by first saying it was sold to him, then promising he would send the money in good time, then saying he had paid it to John's mother when she was already dead.

In Aug 1649 he bought a house in Barnstable and the eight acres of land was bounded on the north by the County road, east by the Hyannis road, south by the commons, and on the west by the homestead of George Lewis, Sr., No. 1880. The deed also conveyed a garden spot and orchard on the north side of the County road. He also bought of his brother-in-law, Lieut John Howland, No. 1486, one half of his farm, forty-five acres of upland, the deed being dated 10 Dec. 1672, and the price paid 16 Pounds. The boundary running over a spring, giving access to both parties. He would live here until his second marriage when he removed to Sandwich, MA.

He was highly esteemed as a man and a Christian by his fellow townsmen and neighbors and his move to Sandwich was deeply regretted by them. Many efforts were made unsuccessfully to induce him to return, the church agreeing to pay him five or six pounds annually if he would resume his office of Elder, and the town voted to make him a liberal grant of meadow lands if he would return.

His wife Hope had joined the church 7 Aug 1650 and he joined 30 Jan 1652/3. Henry Cobb, No. 1882, and John Chipman were ordained ruling Elders of the same church, and solemnly invested with the office on 14 April 1670. He survived Mr. Cobb many years and was the last Ruling Elder of the church.

In June 1659 along with three others he was appointed by the Plymouth Colony Court to attend the meetings of the Quakers "to endeavour to reduce them from the errors of their wayes". One member recommended the repeal of the severe laws that had been enacted against that sect and Chipman sympathized with this action. He was freeman in 1649 and in 1652, a grand juror and appointed by the Treasurer of the Colony to a committee for the Town of Barnstable to receive the proportion of oil which belonged to the colony, in 1663, '4, '5, '8, and '9. He was representative from Barnstable to the Colony Court in 1665, '6, '7, and '8. In 1665, '6, '7, '8, he was a Selectman of Barnstable, and in 1667 he served on the Council of War. For his public services he court granted in 1669, one hundred acres of land between Taunton and Titieut.

He willed, among other items, half of his moveable estate in Sandwich and Barnstable to his surviving daughters, which included Hope.

The town of Situate was founded about Sept 1634 and it was the persecuted preacher John Lothrop who joined them and brought his flock together to form a new church. Henry Cobb would from that time be his right hand man.

Lothrop states, "Uppon January 8, 1634, Wee had a day of humiliation and then att night joyned in covenaunt togeather, so many of us as had beene in Covenaunt before." Of the thirteen men Henry Cobb was there. They did not favor Scituate for long and in 1637 they petitioned the General Court that they had been allotted such small portions of land that they could not subsist upon them. On 22 Jan 1638/9 they were granted a plantation called Seppekann, later Rochester, but they held a day of fast on 13 June 1639 and instead they decided to go to Mattakeese, later called Barnstable. In 1636 Henry Cobb had built a house in Scituate but sold it to Manasseth Kempton on 1 Dec 1640.

On 15 Dec 1635 Henry Cobb was invested into the Office of a Deacon. On 24 March 1640 he laid hands on Brother Cooper to invest him into the office of a Deacon. Henry Cobb would serve as a deacon for nearly thirty-five years and then become a ruling elder on 14 April 1670, along with John Chipman, No. 1870 and No. 1902, which he held until his death in 1679. He maintained that God alone was the judge of a man's conscience when many of those who had been persecuted in England were now persecuting Baptists and Quakers.

Elder Cobb took part in his town and Colony government. He was a representative for many years for Barnstable at the General Court at Plymouth, as one of the two deputies of that town. He was Deputy for the years 1659, 1660, 1661, and 1662. He was also for many years one of the three Selectmen of Barnstable. In 1664 he was an Officer of Excise for Barnstable and also served many times on "the Grand Enquist" as juror.

In 1643 the Court ordered the people of Barnstable to appoint places for defense for themselves and families in case of a sudden attack. Henry Cobb was on that committee.

On 30 May 1668 his signature appeared on the Inventory of the Estate of Richard Foxwell, No. 1866 and No. 1898 along with that of Thomas Huckins, No. 1868 and No. 1900. Deacon Cobb's house lot in Barnstable was seven acres, situated next to that of Thomas Huckins. He had lands on the neck of land and his Great Lot contained three score acres of good soil, suitable for grazing and raising of cattle, the principle business of the first settlers, on the south side of the County road which was bounded on the west by the commons and the land of Richard Foxwell, and the north by the highway. He had two lots of six acres each of good planting soil in the new Common Field. His house lot was rough and uneven and not suited for cultivation. On it was one of the fortified houses of stone for emergency defense.

When he died in 1679 he had lived in the colonies forty-seven years or more. His will was dated 4 April 1673. Among other items he left his daughter Hannah one shilling.

Thomas Hazzard was a ship carpenter. He was a freeman 25 May 1636 at Boston, MA, and two years later he was admitted freeman at Portsmouth, Rhode Island. There he signed on 28 April 1639 the contract of Citizenship, which read, " It is agreed by us whose hands are underwritten to propagate a plantation in the midst of the island or elsewhere, and to engage ourselves to bear equal charge, answerable to our strength and estates, in common, and that our determination shall be by major voice of judge and elders, the judge to have a double voice." On 5 June 1639 he was named one of four proportioners of Newport land and one who might proportion it; "the company laying it forth to have 4d. an acre for every acre laid." He was admitted freeman of Newport on 2 Sept 1639 and 12 Mar 1640 was appointed a member of the General Court of Elections. He was for a short time in Newtown, Long Island.

He was often punished for drunkenness and was cast out of the church when a resident of Massachusetts in the 1630s, however, he must have reformed because when he was at Providence, RI. he was the founder of the Baptist Church there, as well as being a deputy to the General Court. In 1638 he and eleven others were deeded land by Roger Williams that he had purchased from the Indians. His lot, like the rest was a long narrow lot, bounded by Main Street, Meeting Street, Congdon Street, and the property of Thomas Olney, some or all of it he sold to Richard Pray and his wife Mary.

On his death, the town council exercised their duty of distributing his property in the way he should have made his will.

Samuel Gorton, No. 1942, Immigrant Ancestor.

Baptized - 12 Feb. 1592/3, at Gorton, Lancashire, England, to Thomas Gorton, No. 3884 and Anne -------, No. 3885.

Married - Before 1630, Lady Mary Maplett, No. 1943, Immigrant Ancestor.

Death - Before 10 Dec 1677 in that year, at Warwick, RI.

Samuel Gorton came from Gorton, a chapelry within the parish of Manchester, England, where his family had lived for many generations. He became a clothier in London.

He arrived in Boston in 1637 at the age of 44, with his wife and children and rented part of a house. He soon had religious disagrements with his landlord and the elder of the church at Plymouth and was summoned to court to answer a complaint.

Samuel Gorton believed strongly in his religious convictions and did not hesitate to tell anyone about them. The pilgrims, although having been banished from England for their beliefs, were likewise rigid in their own interpretations. Freedom of thought was not popular in those days and Samuel Gorton was anything but a meek conformist.

Fined in court ten pounds for his opinions, he left within fourteen days, under duress, for Rhode Island. One of the quarrels was when he defended a woman, his wine servant, who was to be punished for smiling in church.

He arrived at Portsmouth on 4 April 1639 and along with 28 others, he signed a compact: "We, whose names are underwritten, do acknowledge ourselves the legal subjects of his Majesty King Charles, and in his name do hereby bind ourselves into a civil body politicke unto his laws according to matters of Justice." Although most of these men had also been outcasts from Massachusetts, Gorton, who opposed the clergy as a priviledged class, also offended these men.

On 12 January 1643, he and ten others bought a tract of land from Miantonomi called Shawomet, later Warwick, but two Indian sachems complained to the Boston Court that the dealings were unjust and injurious. The Warwick men saying they were legal subjects of the King of England, ignored the summons. Soldiers came and carried them to Boston, where he was charged with blasphemy and also of disregard of civil authority and sentenced to work at Charlestown in bolts and irons and if he said more, upon conviction by jury, he should suffer death. Six of the others were treated the same.

In January 1644 they were released and told to stay out of the jurisdiction of Massachusetts and Providence. They went home to Showomet (Warwick), but they were informed by letter that this too was in the jurisdiction of the Massachusetts court since the Plymouth Colony laid claim to the territory.

In 1644 Gorton and two of his friends returned to England to address the Commissioners of Foreign Plantations and a notice was sent to Massachusetts. In 1646 He published his "Simplicities Defence Against Seven Headed Policy", a more full treatment of his grievances.

The Massachusetts government was instructed not to molest those who claimed land in Shawomet and in 1648 Gorton returned with a safe conduct letter from the Earl of Warwick to get from Boston to Shawomet, which was called after that "Warwick".

After 1651 Massachusetts relinquished her claim and in 1678, one year after Gorton's death, repealed the act of banishment against him and his friends.

At Warwick in 1649 he was Assistant; Commissioner in 1651, and in 1656 through 1663; President of Providence and Warwick in 1651 and 1652; Freeman in 1655; 1655 and 1656 he published "Saltmarsh returned from the Dead", "Antidote against the Common Plague of the World", and "Antidote against Pharisaical Teachers"; in 1656 with two others, he was appointed by the Assembly to meet with Pomham about oppression by the Indians; 1664 through 1666 and 1670 he was Deputy; and in 1666 he and four others delivered Ponham ten pounds on the condition that they remove from Warwick; and with Roger William he sponsored adoption of the "Emancipation of Slavery" in 1651.

Samuel Gorton is remembered in Rhode Island as one of the founders, and even today much is written about him based upon the writings of his early adversaries, who did not appreciate his independence or disregard for their authority. However, he deserves to be remembered more for his stand on religious freedom and separation of church and state at that early crucial time.

Thomas Goodenow, No. 2016, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - About 1608, Shaftsbury, Dorset, (in the border of Wilts), England, to Thomas Goodenow, No. 4032 and Ursula Fayme or Hayme, No. 4033.

Married - Jane Ruddick, No. 2017 in England, 2/w, Joanna, 1662.

Death - Sudbury, MA, 1663 or Oct 1666.

His brothers John and Edmund lived in nearby Wiltshire and had been reprimanded for attending church in the town of Shaftsbury, where Thomas lived, instead of at their own parish churches. Probably looking for freedom the three brothers and their wives and children and their sister, Ursula, set sail from Southampton, England for the New England colonies in April 1638.

Thomas, stating his age as 30, was listed on the passenger list of the ship, Confidence, with Ursula, his sister, Jane, his wife, and Thomas his son.

They went to Watertown, MA, but since they were used to the open field method of farming instead of buying a plot of land, they went on to the new Sudbury.

They settled at Sudbury Plantation in Massachusetts, and this group of settlers coming from two different types of farming practices had to settle the method of agriculture, set up town lots, establish a local government with laws and enforcement, and divide the beginning tasks among the men. Thomas Goodenow's early task was, with the help of three other men, was to patrol the fences made around two general fields.

For a more detailed description of this settlement read Puritan Village by Sumner Chilton Powell, Pub. by Wesleyan University Press, Middletown, CT, 1963, a fascinating book that won the Pulitzer Prize for History.

Thomas Goodenow was a selectman in 1661, 1662, 1664 and 1665. He removed to nearby Marlborough.

His will probated 24 Sept 1666, bequeathed to his wife Jane, who he called "loving yoak fellow", to son Samuel, all his grand children, and brothers John, and Edmund.

Edmond Rice, Nos. 2024 and 3636, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - 1594, Probably at Sudbury, Suffolk, England.

Married 15 Oct 1618 at Bury St. Edmunds, England, Tamazine Frost, No. 2025 and 3637. He married 2/w Mercy Hurd Brigham, 1 Mar 1655. She was born in England about 1618 and d. 22 Dec 1693 at Marlborough.

Death - 3 May 1663, Marlborough, MA.

Edmund Rice came between March 1638 and September 1639 to Sudbury Plantation with his wife and nine children.

He was an interesting man, a dissenter, ambitious for land and a natural leader even though he did not have the experience in administration of church and government that say, Robert Darvell of Sudbury Plantation had, he was chosen repeatedly by the settlers as one of their leaders. He was eighth in the allotment of land, based on previous wealth, but through skillful but honest land deals he became the largest landholder. He represented Sudbury in the State legislature for five years and for eleven out of his first fifteen years at Sudbury Plantation, he served as Judge of Small Cause and Selectman. He was Freeman 13 May 1640.

Sudbury Plantation was set up as an open field community with small plots for homes and large community agricultural plots. which he was appointed to design. From the first he was chosen along with Darvell, Thomas Goodnow and Andrew Belcher to patrol the common fences in the fields.

He had moved from Suffolk, to Hertfordshire in England and from there to Sudbury, MA. When he saw the second generation of young men needing agricultural land at Sudbury he knew that there was not enough to go around. He moved again, this time setting up a nearby town, called Marlborough, from former Indian land. There he made certain of equal land portions for all new settlers to be used by them and their heirs, a different social system than Sudbury Plantation. When he died, all ten children had division of his estate.

John Howland Sr., No. 2972, No. 3742, and No. 3806, Immigrant Ancestor on the Mayflower.

Born - 1592 at Fen Stanton, Huntingdonshire, England to Henry Howland, No. 5944, No. 7484, and No. 7612.

Married - About 1623 or 1624, Plymouth, MA, Elizabeth Tilley, No. 2973, No. 3743, and No. 3807, Immigrant Ancestor on the Mayflower.

Death - 5 March 1673, Plymouth, or Rocky-Nook, MA.

Charles Edward Banks stated, "John Howland, who was born about 1594, came as a servant of John Carver, but as there is no record of his residence in Leyden he is credited to London for the reason that Carver was in England for some considerable time before the sailing of the Mayflower ---". George F. Willison explained, the indentured servants role as not being servants in our sense of the word but they were brought along to do the heaviest kind of labor such as felling trees, hewing timbers, building houses, clearing fields and ploughing them etc. Their indenture usually lasted seven years without pay, but they were fed, clothed, and housed by their masters, and like slaves were frequently sold or hired out.

Governor Bradford in writing about what happened in a severe storm that hit the Mayflower wrote about John Howland, "A lusty young man coming upon some occasion above the grating was with a seele of the ship thrown into the sea, but it pleased God that he caught hold of the topsail halliards which hung overboard, and ran out at length, yet he held his hold (though he was sundry fathoms under water) till he was hauled up by the same rope to the brim of the water, and then with a boat hook and other means got into the ship again."

Before landing forty-one of the men signed the famous Compact and John Howland was the thirteenth and John Tilley, the father of Elizabeth, whom he would later marry, was sixteenth. Twenty-one of these men would die before March and John Howland would outlive the remaining forty-one.

John Howland and John Tilley were part of the ten "principal men" who took the shallop from the Mayflower on a bitter cold and windy day, 11 Dec. 1629, to seek a place to settle.

By spring of 1621 John Carver died and his wife died about six weeks later. It is said that John Howland received some money from the estate and that he bought his freedom. When the lots were cast for land in 1623, he was allotted four acres "lying on south side of the brook to the woodward". In the distribution of cattle in 1627, he received cattle for himself, wife Elizabeth, son John, and daughter Desire.

The parents of Elizabeth Tilley died that first hard winter and she went to live for a short time with John Carver and his wife. In 1622 John Howland then thirty married her, a young girl of fifteen. Their marriage proved to be a long and happy one.

He was one of eight signers on a contract in 1629 in which they agreed with the financial "Undertakers" to provide furs and the use of their shallop, pinnace and exclusive right of trade with the Indians for six years in return for the Undertakers paying all debts of the colony for purchase of land, 50 Pounds of hose and shoes in return for corn at 6s a bushel and pay each one either six bushels of corn or six pounds of tobacco.

In 1633, '34, and '35 he was Assistant Governor. In 1634 he was the chief manager of the trading post on the Kennebec river under the Plymouth patent. There was much trouble with a John Hocking of Piscataqua who tried to trade within the Plymouth patent by going up the Kennebec river above their trading houses to intercept the trade, the life blood of the Plymouth finances, and they told him to weigh anchor and he answered by swearing. John Alden, also an assistant governor was present and agreed with Howland that if they allowed him such trespass, "they had better throw up all". Their posts here were very profitable and they could never pay their debts without them.

When more talk failed to dislodge Hocking, Howland sent two men in a canoe to cut the cables of his anchored ship. As his vessel swung around, Hocking fatally shot one of the men, Moses Talbot with a shot to the head at close range. John Howland seeing this coming, "called to him desiring him not to shoot his man but to take himself for his mark; saying his men did but that which he commanded them, and therefore desired him not to hurt any of them. If any wrong was done it was himself that did it, and therefore called again to him to take him for his mark, saying he stood very fair." Nevertheless, Hocking shot Moses Talbot through the head and was presently himself shot "by Talbot's partner near the same place in the head where he had murderously shot Moses".

The court agreed that the primary guilt was Hockings but the Pilgrims were given "grave and godly exhortation and advice".

In 1638 he bought of John Jenney, No. 1862, for 82 Pounds, three acres of land, his house, barns and outhouses at Rocky Nook and 5 acres of meadow. In 1638 he bought of William Holmes for 15 Pounds, ten shillings, a lot of land on Duxbury side of 30 acres plus three acres of meadow. In 1640 he sold to Willima Kemp for 140 Pounds his Duxbury property. In 1648 he bought of Gov. William Bradford for 50 Pounds "in cattle and work" land in Marshfield and sold half of this marshy land to his son-in-law, John Gorham.

He was Deputy in 164l, '46, '48 through '58, '61, '63, '66, '67, and '70.

His will was proved 1688. Wife Elizabeth was executrix. Among other items he willed to eldest son John, 100 acres on the east side of the Taunton River, between Titicut and Taunton, besides what he has already had. Hope Chipman received 20 shillings and his "dear and loving wife Elizabeth" received the use for life of his house in Rocky Nook in Plymouth, with outhousing, lands etc. and all other lands, houses, meadows etc, except what had already been given to the children.

The record of his death says, "He was a Godly man and an ancient professor in the wayes of Christ. He lived until hee attained above eighty yeares in the world. Hee was one of the first comers into this land and proved a useful instrument of good in his place,--"

Elizabeth Tilley, No. 2973, No. 3743, and No. 3807, Immigrant Ancestor on the Mayflower.

Born - 1607, England, to John Tilley, No. 5946, No. 7486, and No. 7614. Immigrant Ancestor on the Mayflower. Her mother has been reported to be Joan Hurst who married a John Tilley 20 Sept 1596 at Henlow, England, Elizabeth Comyngs who married a John Tilley, 2 Feb 1605, St Andrew Undershaft, which is close to the Pilgrim center, and Bridget Van der Velde who married a John Tilley in Leyden, Feb 1615 and who is claimed by some to be her mother and John Tilley her step-father. There is too much speculation and not enough evidence to say for certain and so this author will list John Tilley as her father and drop it there.

Death - 21 Dec 1687.

She was aged 79 and living at Swansea at the time of making out her will. Among other things she willed to son John, Five Pounds and a book, "Mr. Tindale's Works", a pair of sheets, pillow beeres and bed blankets, a great iron pot and pot hooks. She began her will, "And first being penitent and sorry from the bottom of my heart for all my sins past, most humbly desiring forgiveness for the same." She closed by saying, "It is my will and charge to all my children that they walk in the fear of the Lord, and in love and peace towards each other,---".

Widow, Martha Ford, No. 3731 and No. 3795, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - England

Married - First Husband unknown; Second Husband probably Peter Browne of the Mayflower.

Death - Probably between 1638 and 1640.

The "Widow" Martha Ford came on the ship "Fortune" from England to Plymouth, MA in 1621. It is unknown if she came with a husband or was widowed before, but she was pregnant and delivered a child the first night after she landed. Winslow recorded it as a son, but many feel that it might have been her daughter, Martha.

She had four lots in 1623. In the division of cattle dated 22 May 1627 it is printed so that her daughter might have received her own allotment as being one born here, the wording being unclear, as Middleborough suggesting that daughter Martha might have been the baby born on arrival. There is not enough evidence to prove this one way or the other and it will forever be a subject of speculation.

Joseph Wise, No. 3990, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - England

Married - 3, Dec 1641, Roxbury, MA, Mary Thompson, No. 3991, Immigrant Ancestor.

Death - 12 Sept 1689.

The first record of Joseph Wise is in the 1640 will of Dr. George Alcock of Roxbury, which included bequests to his servants Joseph Wise and John Plimpton.

On 7 June 1671, Joseph Wise of Roxbury sold to Dea. William Parke of Roxbury half of a 600 acre tract in Providence. Two years later he sold the other half to Caleb Lamb and Stephen Williams. He had taken up the trade of butcher, as the elder John Winthrop referred to him as "the Roxbury butcher".

In 1645 a cattle drive from the ranch of John Winthrop Jr. at Pequot moved through Rhode Island to Roxbury. Letters penned by Joseph Wise regarding this transaction show that he was literate. John Winthrop Sr., John Winthrop Jr. and Roger Williams were all involved in this drive for slaughter and sale. These letters of Joseph Wise dated 19 Mar 1650/1, 12 Aug 1654 and 1 Nov 1654 are now in the Winthrop Papers at the MA Historical Society, Boston.

He died intestate and administration of the estate was granted to his widow Mary and son John. The Providence, RI tax list of 1688 lists, "the Estate of ye deceased Joseph Wise".

Jonathan Fairbanks, No. 4056, Immigrant Ancestor.

Born - About 1595, Heptonstall, Halifax, Yorkshire, England to George Fairbank, No. 8112 and Mary Farrer, No. 8113. (Note: Church of LDS computer records state that his parents were John Fairbanks b. 2 Aug 1562, Halifax, York, England, d. aft. 28 May 1650, and Isabella Standcliffe, born abt. 1564, with Mary Ferrar being his second wife.)

Married - 20 May 1617, Grace Smith and/or Lee, No. 4057, at Halifax, Yorkshire, England.

Death - 5 Dec 1668, Dedham, MA.

Jonathan Fairbanks came in the "Speedwell" to America with his wife and family in 1633 and was one of the first pioneers to Deedham. He signed the Covenant when it was established. He built there a house, which perhaps is still standing, called by some the oldest dwelling in America.

In the Massachusetts Archives, Vol 30, page 200, there is a letter written by Jonathan Fairbanks in which he records the events of a volunteer detail in which he participated under the command of Capt. Benjamin Gibbs toward Quabaug, ten miles from the "Rhode", to hunt for children reported stolen by the Indians and housed in a wigwam. They found the children and others not reported stolen, including a ten year old girl, who was adopted by Capt. Gibbs who promised to bring her up as one of his own.

His will was proved 1 Jan 1669, giving, among other things, to second son, George, sixteen pounds, and to wife Grace all movables both indoor and out, cattle, etc., to do what she pleases with, and forty pounds per year for life; payable 1-2 each six months, with free use of the house, yard room for cattle, for four months after his death.

John Tilley, No. 5946, No. 7486, and No. 7614, Immigrant Ancestor on the Mayflower.

Born - England.
(Possibly at Henlow, son of Robert and Elizabeth).

Married - There has been reports that he married a Joan Hurst, 20 Sept 1596 at Henlow, England, an Elizabeth Comyngs, at St Andrew Undershaft, London, England, 2 Feb 1605, and a Bridget Van der Velde, Feb. 1615 in Leyden, Holland. There is no firm evidence to prove any of these John Tilleys to be this one, however the arguments that he was from Henlow are most convincing. That he was married when he came to Plymouth, MA is certain, and she died with him that first winter.

Death - Between 11 January and 10 April 1621, Plymouth MA. All that perished that first terrible winter were buried in the corn field so the Indians would not know how many had perished and how few were left.

On 21 Nov 1620 in the cabin of the Mayflower, John Tilley was the sixteenth to sign the Compact.

On 16 Dec 1620 he was one of the eighteen members of the third expedition that left the Mayflower in the shallop, Sparrow to find a place to settle. It was this expedition which had the first encounter with the Cape Cod Indians on 18 Dec 1620 and which later made the historic Plymouth Rock landing.

It was a cold and windy day when they left the Mayflower, the spray froze their clothes till they were "like coates of iron". They spotted some Indians cutting up a fifteen foot black whale. They landed and put up a log shelter with a blazing fire in the center. At night the Indians yelled and in the morning showered them with arrows but the men escaped to their boat without a scratch. The second night they camped on an island after a storm had done some damage to the boat, but they continued and early on December 11th they sounded the harbor and discovered that it would accommodate ships. Going ashore, they found "diverse cornfeilds and a litle brooks, a place fitt for situation; at least, it was ye best they could find, and ye season & their presente necessitie made them glad to accepte of it." John White, No. 7984 and No. 7996.

Born - 1642.

Married - Intention 10 Apr 1640, Boston, Watertown, Brookline, and Roxbury to Francis -----, No. 7985 and No. 7997.

Death - Brookline, MA, 15 Apr 1691, will dated two days earlier and probated March 1692.

John White was a merchant in Watertown, MA. He appeared before the General Court in 1636. He purchased land on the South side of the Charles river 4 Jan 1646, sold his land at Watertown on 4 Oct 1653 and moved to that part of Boston called Brookline with his wife Frances and children John, Joseph, Benjamin, Mary, and his sister's child Mary. There he bought of Thomas Oliver a farm in 1650, and settled at once to an active part as a citizen.

On 8 June 1658 a meeting of the selectmen of Boston gave notice that a highway had been laid out across land owned by John White and others, declaring that this road should be known as the town's highway. This did not meet with the entire approval of John White, although he had a part in laying it out. Difficulties had been partially anticipated by allowing him either to "fence outt" the new road or to set gates at his property lines, but a few weeks later John White built a stone wall across it and a fine of twenty shillings for each day's obstruction was ordered. After repeated claims for damage to his property, the selectmen allowed him the abatement of his town and county rates for the ensuing four years in full satisfaction of his claims. All must have been patched up because in January 1662 a meeting was arranged at his home in Muddy River to make arrangements with a committee from Cambridge for a highway to connect the towns.

His will bequeathed to wife Frances and three sons, John, Joseph, No. 3998, and Benjamin, No. 3992 and grandchildren including Benjamin, No. 1996.

Index B - Family Related

This index lists individuals who were, or are, members of families which contained ancestors in the direct line of descent, although these individuals were not themselves in that direct line. They are siblings of direct ancestors, or spouses of those siblings. The listing is not all inclusive; there are, regrettably, some ommissions. The numbers refer to the file, normally their parents, where their name is found.
